CITY TO ASK START ON AIRPORT PROJECT

Alice Longworth Says

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 21.—The result of the last of the presidential preference primaries again shifts the odds on the Republican contest in Governor Landon's favor.

The New Jersey vote is discouraging to the anti-Landonites, who had begun to talk big since California elected an uninstructed delegation. They did not so much hope that Senator Borah would win as that Mr. Landon would fail to make a good showing.

That, it may be said, is the sort of mixed emotion that sways party politicians in a pre-convention fight.

It is now too late for anyone to go to the convention with more delegates pledged or "advised" than Mr. Landon has. This naturally increases the obligation on the Landon forces to offer before long something definite about a platform. Undoubtedly they have one ready. They would be unique if they had not, as there is hardly a group at this stage that is not weightily engaged in drawing up and sorting out planks to feed into the hopper of the committee on resolutions at Cleveland.

Withdrawal Of British And French Troops Desired

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 21.—Italy is pressing for withdrawal of the additional British and French troops sent to Addis Ababa at the outbreak of the Italo-Ethiopian war, International News Service learned today.

The Italian government, it was disclosed, has informally made known to the British and French foreign offices that Italy would appreciate withdrawal of the troops from the Ethiopian capital, which is now under control of the Italian forces.

The British and French troops were sent to Addis Ababa to guard their respective legations.

GANGSTERDOM IS ON WAY OUT

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—Organized gangsterdom is on its way out as part of the American scene.

This was the assertion J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the federal "G-men," left behind him here following an address to the closing meeting of the 30th annual convention of boys' clubs of America.

Gangsters rapidly are reaching the level of "public rats" in the minds of the American populace, Hoover declared.

Conference On Improvement Of Highways Opens

Representative Citizens Of Two States Here To Plan Better Inter-State Roads

SESSIONS WILL END THIS EVENING

Visitors Welcomed By Mayor McGrath And Genkinger Of Chamber Of Commerce

Representative citizens, road officials, and business leaders from Ohio and Pennsylvania's border cities are gathered at The Castleton today for important conferences which are expected to lead to the development of the highways linking the two states. They are members of the eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania regional planning committee.

Over a hundred were present at the luncheon at 12:30 this afternoon which was to be followed by an address by Hon John D. Adams, chairman of the Indiana state road commission. A round table discussion is scheduled followed Mr. Adams' address.

During the afternoon, the visitors were guests of the New Castle Field club for a golf match, which will be followed by dinner this evening at 6:30 at The Castleton.

The after dinner speakers are Col. John B. Reynolds, vice-president of the Portland Cement Association and Con McCole, nationally known humorist.

The visitors were welcomed here by Mayor Charles E. McGrath and L. G. Genkinger, president of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce.

Ralph W. Bolsinger, president of the New Castle Motor club is chairman of the reception committee which has arranged a good program of entertainment for the visitors at this meeting, the first semi-annual conference to discuss road questions affecting the two states.

Battle For Democratic Nomination For Governor Of New York Opens

(International News Service)

ALBANY, N. Y., May 21.—Attorney General John J. Bennett, Jr., jumped to the front today as the probable Democratic candidate for governor in the wake of Governor Lehman's formal announcement that he will not seek a third term.

Despite reports from Washington that Robert H. Jackson, Jamestown lawyer, closely connected with the Roosevelt administration, has the backing of President Roosevelt and Postmaster General James A. Farley, the Bennett boom was on in full swing today with his friends actively rounding up support for him.

Those behind the Bennett movement declared that he was nominated for attorney-general in 1930 at the urging of President Roosevelt, then governor, and that of all the candidates mentioned he is most likely to roll up a huge vote in New York City.

Coupled with the Bennett drive, however, was a determined movement to persuade Governor Lehman to change his mind, possibly by drafting him at the state convention in September.

President Gets Ideas Of Insurgents-Liberals

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 21.—President Roosevelt had before him today the ideas of some of the senate's more pronounced liberals as to what should go into his platform for reelection.

The executive obtained these viewpoints most informally by entertaining seven senators last night at a social White House evening which began at 8:30 p. m. and ended shortly after midnight.

Among those present was Senator Robert F. Wagner (D) of New York, who is slated to be chairman of the resolution committee at the Democratic national convention in Philadelphia next month where the president's renomination is assured.

Present also at the gathering in the oval room was Prof. Felix Frankfurter, of Harvard.

Last night's gathering of the senate liberals was said to be merely one of a series of most informal conferences in the immediate future with men both in and out of public life who speak from all angles of political and economic thought. The president, it was said, was trying to acquaint himself with

Reopening Of Husband's Battle For Custody Of Child Not To Halt Program

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, May 21.—Undisturbed by reopening of her former husband's long battle for custody of their child, Ann Harding, blonde film actress, was preparing today to make her scheduled trip to England to engage in picture work there.

After Miss Harding won complete custody of her 7-year-old daughter, the husband, Harry Bannister, yesterday filed suit in Reno, Nev., asking the court to grant him partial custody.

Through her attorneys here, the actress announced the California courts had settled the custody matter and had given her permission to take the child on her trip to England.

The attorneys said they would take no action to right the suit, since they felt the Nevada courts had no jurisdiction in the matter. Bannister is in New York.

Steen To Get Facts On Bonus Payment Methods For District

Postmaster Richard A. Steen, representing almost 70 postmasters of Lawrence, Mercer and Butler counties, will go to Erie on Saturday, to hear special representatives of the post office department from Washington outline the method by which the government expects to promptly handle the veteran's adjusted service bonds during June.

Returning from Erie, Postmaster Steen will then convey the instructions and recommendations to the 70 postmasters at a meeting to be held in New Castle on Monday, May 25.

The postmaster today had invited the postmasters of the three counties to the meeting which will probably take place in the Civil Service room of the Federal building.

Steen this week was notified that he was to represent all the postmasters at the Erie meeting. Other postmasters will represent other counties.

ITALO-BRITISH SITUATION AGAIN AT CRISIS STAGE

(International News Service)

British official indignation, seething for the fortnight since Premier Mussolini proclaimed annexation of Ethiopia, exploded in the House of Commons today, suddenly bringing the Italo-British situation back to a perilously critical stage.

Amid M. P.'s thundering criticisms of Italian "insults" Prime Minister Baldwin informed the cheering commons that Britain "would regard as an unfriendly act any attempt at interference in the affairs of Egypt," and he intimated that imperial defenses in Egypt and Palestine would be strengthened.

British Subject Missing.

Fuel was added to Britain's anger by receipt of word at the foreign office in London that no trace could be found of L. J. Bonner, nursing orderly with the British amublance unit in Ethiopia, following his arrest by Italian authorities at Dire Dawa Monday. Strong diplomatic action in Rome was expected as the fear grew that Bonner had been executed.

Taking heed of the dangerous tension, Premier Mussolini recalled Marshal Pietro Badoglio, commander-in-chief of the Italian expeditionary force, from Addis Ababa. Marshal Badoglio left his office as "viceroy" of Ethiopia to hasten back to Rome and take command of a potential army of one million Italian fighting men. Ostensibly on a "brief vacation," Marshal Badoglio will remain in Italy over the period

Leader Of Band Of Prison Breakers Is Back In Cell

(International News Service)

McALESTER, Akla., May 21.—Claude Beavers, one of the leaders of the band of desperate convicts that staged a sensational break from the state prison here ten days ago, killing one guard, wounded another and kidnaped two as hostages, was returned to the prison early today and placed in solitary confinement.

Beavers was captured in a mountain hideout 35 miles southeast of here, late last night.

But two of the 20 convicts who took part in the break remain at large. A posse of 50 prison guards is combing the district for them.

"RUBBER" DOLLARS CAUSE ARRESTS

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 21.—Possession of "rubber" dollars today bounced two Pittsburghers into Federal court on charges of violating the government's counterfeit money laws.

The two, Matthew C. Peters, 28, and Bernard Dempsey, 23, were alleged by secret service operatives to have offered the rubber "fun money," in forms of $5 and $10 bills, for sale on a street corner.

Though no attempt was made by the "rubber dollar" salesmen to pass their wares off as the real thing, investigators said the making of such notes was a federal offense because the plates used in their printing could also be used in turning out spurious paper bills.

The men were placed on probation for two years and fined costs.

Dr. Rosenthal Taken By Death

Long Illness Is Fatal To Well Known Optometrist Of New Castle

PAST COMMANDER OF LEGION POST

DR. H. H. ROSENTHAL

Dr. Harry H. Rosenthal, aged 43 years, of the Greer building, died in the Jameson Memorial hospital at 6:30 o'clock this morning, after a year's illness.

Dr. Rosenthal, an optometrist and a well known member and past commander of the American Legion, Perry S. Gaston, Post, had been a patient at the local hospital for about two months. For three months previous to that he had undergone treatment in the Mt. Alto hospital at Washington, D. C.

New Castle had been his home for the past eighteen years and during all of that time he had taken a great interest in the American Legion. During his term as post commander the Legion here enjoyed its largest membership. For a number of years Dr. Rosenthal was a member of the State Rehabilitation Committee and was largely responsible for the adoption of methods in procedure which was very beneficial to disabled veterans.

He enlisted in the United States Army on June 17, 1917 and was discharged May 10, 1919. Most of that time he passed at the U. S. General hospital at Fort Ogelthorpe, Ga. His final rank was that of hospital sergeant, senior grade, the highest non-commissioned office in the medical corps.

It was at Fort Ogelthorpe that he first became acquainted with Dr. L. A. Schwenitz, of Philadelphia, and Cleveland, one of America's noted oculists. Dr. Schwenitz became interested in the young hos-

Old Post Office Building To Be Public Library

City Library Board Concludes Long Series Of Negotiations With Government

BARGAIN PRICE IS GIVEN BOARD

Proposal Will Give City The Building For Library Use For $31,650

That the City of New Castle would shortly be able to acquire the old post office building at East North and North Mercer streets for a public library seemed assured today with the official acceptance by the United States Treasury department of terms recently offered by the Free Public library's board of trustees.

The acceptance was announced by the library board's spokesmen, Clarence A. Patterson, William J. Caldwell, Guy J. Wadlinger and Wylie McCaslin. The four are board members.

The purchase price of $31,650, it announced, which the treasury department agreed upon was reached only after months of negotiation between the library board and government representatives. The contract itself, it has been learned, has just been received by City Clerk C. Ed. Brown and awaits the formal approval of city council.

Acceptance of the contract will assure to the city a building ad-

CLOSED BANKS SEEK PAYMENT

Many Churches Among Debtors

Government To Seek To Aid In Collection Of Amounts Due Banks

OVER $100,000,000 MUST BE COLLECTED

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 21—The administration has launched a far-reaching plan to collect more than $100,000,000 in debts owed to closed national banks by hundreds of churches and quasi-religious organizations.

This was disclosed today by William Prentiss, deputy comptroller of the currency, and H. J. Hall, supervising federal receiver, to whom has been entrusted the task of liquidating frozen assets of approximately 1300 defunct banks.

Hard-hit by the economic slump and the improvishment of their congregations, many churches floated loans from these banks. Convents, seminaries, schools, Y. M. C. A.'s, community centers, charitable homes parsonages and lodges also have been heavy borrowers.

Churches Make No Effort

A large number of the debtor churches have made no effort to repay their debts while some engaged in sporadic but fruitless campaigns to raise money.

Convinced that orderly liquidation of the closed banks depends, to a great extent, on the refinancing and disposal of church indebtedness, administration officials are preparing for an intensive drive to stimulate religious contributions and patronage.

Prentiss revealed that he will make arrangements with several skilled, professional money-raising organizations which will co-operate with churches and other institutions in obtaining money to pay the banks.

Before this campaign gets underway, officials will confer with ministers, priests, rabbis and other heads of the improvished religious institutions to enlist their co-operation. Officials explained that some of the borrowers owe small amounts which might be obtained through such revenue-producing functions as bazaars, clam-bakes, fairs, carnivals, raffles and other kindred activities.

For the most part the professional money-raising groups will be utilized. They will be reimbursed on a commission basis by the churches.

May Foreclose

While reluctant to foreclose any religious properties, the government is prepared to use this weapon whenever church officials decline to aid in settling their obligations.

Considerable progress in the liquidation of frozen bank assets already has been made through the government's activities. Prentiss, a former California real estate promoter, recently instituted a series of public auction sales by which many of the closed banks were able to dispose of large property holdings. The sales, conducted in southern communities, will be extended to other sections of the country.

Among cities where the government's campaign for church revenue, on the basis of initial reports to Prentiss, may be expected are the following where closed banks hold a number of religious I. O. U.'s.

Pennsylvania — Bethlehem, Erie, Reading, Philadelphia, Charleroi, Connellsville, Pittsburgh, Uniontown and Johnstown.

SEEK TO SPEED AIRPORT WORK FOR NEW CASTLE

merchants division, inquired as to the status of the airport project and also asked council if anything could be done to expedite the airport.

Expect U. S. Man Soon

Mayor Charles E. McGrath informed the commissioner the city had met all requirements requested by the government. He also asserted that Councilman Joseph D. Alexander had informed him that a representative of the state aeronautics board was expected here this week.

Councilman Alexander said he believed that it might be well for the city to arrange for a personal contact and after the merchants present indicated through President Bintz they favored this, Councilman Fink submitted the motion which authorized Throop to go.

He was selected because it had been explained that engineering questions had arisen in connection with the airport, which Alexander maintained could be settled only by personal discussions. Fink's motion was seconded by Councilman Butler, who later withdrew his second when it developed Throop was to go alone.

Councilman J. Myron Rice offered a second to the motion and it passed.

Councilman To Go Also

The merchants believed that a councilman also should go and when council made no move to authorize one of their members to go away at the city's expense, Bintz informed council that the merchants themselves would pay the expenses of one member who will accompany Throop. The member probably will be Alexander.

According to reports the city was informed that the government would provide $162,000 for an airport. The city and county agreed to provide their share of the cost, approximately $21,000. Options on land were secured and plans for the airport made.

The men who came here and urged the airport here promised that work would start on the first day of sunshine, according to the mayor. More recently a government engineer said the plans should be changed. This was agreed to. However, it is said that there are yet some questions to discuss.

The only thing that now is holding up the airport, according to the mayor, is the government's failure to allocate the money to the city and order work to start.

By sending Throop to interview the parties in charge of the proposed airport it is hoped to expedite both.

OLD POST OFFICE BUILDING TO BE PUBLIC LIBRARY

mirably adapted for the purpose and adequate for future growth. It can readily be remodeled for library purposes and when completed will provide the city with a library plant that will stand favorable comparison with libraries in cities of similar size throughout the country.

Plan Of Payment

The offer of purchase made by the library board, it became known today, contemplates a down payment of $1,000, a further payment of $5,000 within three months and allows a five-year period for the payment of the balance with interest at four per cent on unpaid balances.

The successful termination of negotiations, the library spokesman today disclosed, marks the end of months' of effort.

When the library's representatives first broached the matter of acquiring the old post office, there was for a time a feeling on the part of city council that the city might better acquire it for a city hall. This question received earnest consideration of council but the project was finally dropped when it was realized that a sum variously estimated between $100,000 and $250,000 would be necessary to remodel it for city hall purposes.

The cost of remodeling for library purposes, the library board said today, would not exceed $15,000 and could be wholly financed by public subscription involving no expense to taxpayers whatever.

Council Abandoned Effort

Upon consideration of the high remodeling cost which would be involved were it acquired for a city hall, former Mayor Charles B. Mayne, and council sometime last summer abandoned their efforts and notified the library authorities that the city council had no further interest in the building for city hall purposes. The board immediately went to work and after correspondence with treasury officials, personal interviews at Washington and here with department representatives, Congressman Charles R. Eckert, and United States Senator Joseph F. Guffey, finally succeeded in getting present bargain price of $31,650.

The spokesman for the library after announcing the progress made, summed up everything with this statement:

"In view of the former action of city council in withdrawing from competition for the building and their notification of the library board to this effect, no further delay in closing the contract is anticipated. The library board has done an excellent piece of work and is prepared to start remodeling as soon as possession of the premises can be secured. Prompt action by city council in approving the contract is expected as the plan involves no expense to the taxpayers and will assure for New Castle a badly needed building for a library."

ITALO-BRITISH SITUATION AGAIN AT CRISIS STAGE

of the British and Austrian crises, it was reliably forecast.

Meanwhile Italy consolidated her territorial gains in the British zone of influence in northwestern Ethiopia. Troops occcupied Debra Marcos, chief town between Addis Ababa and Lake Tsana. Debra Marcos lies inside the great horseshoe formed by the Blue Nile river, vital to irrigation of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

France refused an Italian request that French colonial troops now be withdrawn from Ethiopia. A similar request that the Sikh troops guarding the British legation in Adis Ababa be recalled was made in London, but a British refusal for the present was also looked for.

France At Britain's Side.

Paris, May 21.—France leaped to the side of Britain today in defiance of the Italian imperial regime in Ethiopia, with a firm refusal to withdraw her colonial troops now guarding the Addis Abab-Djibouti railway.

Pointing out that the railway is owned by French interests, the war ministry, following an Italian request that policing in Ethiopia now be left entirely to the Italian authorities, told International News Service.

"No change in the situation so far warrants withdrawal of our forces guarding the railway, as the country is still in an unsettled condition."

France sent two companies of Senegalese troops to Dire Dawa when disorders broke out with the approach of the Italian army.

Deaths of the Day

Donna Jean Fobes

Donna Jean Fobes, aged three and a half months, daughter of Harvey and Clara Wallace Fobes, of Neshannock township, died at the home at 8 o'clock this morning after a short illness with pneumonia.

The infant was born in Neshannock township on February 7, this year. In addition to the parents, one sister, Betty Lee Fobes; one brother, Harold Leroy Fobes, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Fobes and Mrs. James Wallace, and a great-grandmother, Mrs. William Keller, survive.

Funeral services will be conducted from the home of Mrs. James Wallace, Neshannock township, grandmother of the deceased, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be made in Kings Chapel cemetery.

Fiscus Funeral Time

Funeral services for Clifford Fiscus, of East North street, will be conducted Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Jos. B. Leyde mortuary. Interment will be made in Greenwood cemetery. The family will be at the mortuary when friends call tonight from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Mr. Fiscus was a World War veteran; he served overseas for a period of fourteen months.

James Ashton Funeral

Funeral services for James, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ashton, South Ray street, were conducted at the residence on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with the Second United Presbyterian pastor, Dr. C. K. McGeorge, in charge.

Pallbearers were Marlyn Beatty, Ruth Allen, Clara Dilley, and Betty Rodgers. Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery.

There was a large gathering of friends and relatives in attendance and many beautiful flowers had been sent to the home.

DIRIGIBLE ON RETURN TRIP

Leaves Lakehurst Shortly After 11 o'clock Wednesday Night For Germany

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 21.—Speeded along by a fast tail wind, the dirigible Hindenburg was well out over the Atlantic today, headed for Germany on the final leg of its second round trip between Frankfort-On-Main and Lakehurst, N. J.

The big ship cast off from the mooring mast at the naval air station at Lakehurst shortly after 11 o'clock last night and after giving New Yorkers another glimpse of her shimmering silver sides and gleaming pilot lights, hoved out over the ocean.

The ship, which arrived here early yesterday morning, was in port only about 16 hours.

Baltimore Truck Drivers On Strike

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE, May 21.—A general strike of Baltimore drivers of freight trucks disrupted intercity transportation by truck today. Soon as the strike was called last night squads of pickets were sent to patrol the highways.

They went out with instructions to "solicit peacefully passing truck drivers to join the union." Almost at once, however, reports of trouble were relayed to police here. Several drivers reported they had been shot at and others claimed they had been stoned.

You can tell when a man doesn't know the facts. He usese more positive assertions as a substitute.

Mrs. Thomas Ince Is Not Pleased At Son's Elopment

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, May 21.—Richard K. Ince, 20-year-old son of the late Thomas H. Ince, multimillionaire film producer, and pretty Charlotte Tonya Buford, former film actress, were honeymooning under difficulties today.

The difficulties took the form of parental objections to the couple's surprise elopment to Yuma, Ariz. In a specially chartered plane the happy pair returned to Hollywood only to find the groom's mother had strenuous objections.

"I shall certainly try to get the marriage annulled," Mrs. Ince said. "My only objection is my son's youth. He is only 20-years old."

Another Policy Of Administration Is Now Under Fire

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 21—Already backed to the wall by two adverse court opinions within a week, government attorneys went into District of Columbia supreme court to defend another Roosevelt administration measure, the railroad retirement legislation. Its constitutionality is attacked by 430 railroad enterprises, two express companies and the Pullman company.

MONEY FOUND SHORT FOR HIGHWAY WORK

County Commissioners Bolinger, Cotton and Hannon were at Pittsburgh yesterday in conference with state highway officials regarding the roads that are to be improved in Lawrence County. It was found that the funds available for Lawrence County will not be sufficient to complete all the roads that it is proposed to improve, unless further appropriations are received. No definite action was taken with reference to particular roads pending efforts to secure more money.

COMMITS SUICIDE
(International News Service)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., May 21.—With the words, "I'm going to end it all," Lowell Young, 27, of near Center Hall, early today shot himself through the head with a .22 caliber revolver and died a short time later in a hospital at Bellefonte.

The tragedy which state police said they were satisfied was a suiside occurred at "Brownie's Place," a roadhouse on the State College-Lewistown road near here.

INSPECTION AT CAMP

Buildings and grounds of Camp Fred L. Rentz of the New Castle Y. M. C. A. underwent an inspection yesterday by two members of the "Y" camp committee, W. J. Offutt and Dr. E. F. Henderson, and General Secretary R. L. Meermans. Over 190 boy-weeks have been reserved for the coming season, scheduled to open July 7.

Husband's Story Of Wife Shooting Is Being Probed

(International News Service)

OREGON, Ill., May 21—Terming a chubby, 58-year-old embalmer's tale of the bandit slaying of his wife, "very unusual" state's attorney Donald Crowell said he would subject Guy M Tallmadge, the embalmer, to lie detector tests today.

Tallmadge's wife, Bessie, 53, was found shot to death Tuesday night her body lying near the Tallmadge automobile on a gravel road four miles east of here.

Tallmadge told authorities she was slain by one of two bandits who stopped them as they were returning to their home in Rockford from Chana, where they had been collecting rent on a building owned by the slain woman.

Magazine editors must be rich. When they picture a ten-room house costing $16,000, they call it a "cheap little house."

LOCAL WOMEN SHARE HONORS AT PITTSBURGH

An annual event, that is keenly looked forward too, is the birthday party that is always observed in some surprise manner, by a group of three local women, who have birthdays on the same date, May 20. Those referred to, are Mrs. W. E. Harris, Mrs. W. H. Shipler and Miss Mollie Davis.

Yesterday, Mrs. Harris was in charge of plans, and she took her guests, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Harry Hammond, to Chattam Village, Pittsburgh, to the home of another daughter of Mrs. Harris', Mrs. N. E. Gustafason, where they honored. Upon their arrival, the local women were overwhelmed with delight, as a party was already in progress as means of celebration of the memorable event.

A sumptuous chicken dinner was served by Mrs. Gustafason, at a table most attractively decorated, with the birthday motif being combined with suggestions of the season. A large tiered birthday cake aglow with tiny candles in green and yellow shades, formed the centerpiece. Bouquets of flowers adorned the rooms throughout.

Following this feature, the gathering motored to various interesting places in Pittsburgh vicinity, in the form of a "Travelogue" that proved entertaining, as well as educational.

In concluding this most perfect day of festivities, gifts were exchanged among the guests of honor, and plans were suggested for their 1937 event. It is hoped to make the affair a foursome by that time.

Meeting Postponed

The Junior Daughters of the Daughters of Union Veterans will meet in the Clendenin building on June 12 instead of Friday, May 22, as originally schedule:

O. F. T. Club

Mrs. William Bowen of Superior street, will receive the O. F. T. club members in her home Thursday evening.

ROSE SACRIPANT IS HONORED WITH PARTY

Miss Rose Sacripant, one of the most prominent members of the Amity Club, whose marriage to William Mooney will occur early next month, was honored with a most delightful party by her club associates, Wednesday evening, in the home of Miss Ann Burgo, East Washington street.

Cards proved the popular pastime of the evening, lovely prizes being awarded to Miss Rose Sacripant and Miss Yolanda Carney.

During the course of the event, Miss Sacripant was presented with a valuable 18-piece goblet crystal set, by the club. At an appointed time, the hostess served a most delicious luncheon, on a long table artistically arranged with bride's roses as a centerpiece. Place cards and favors added much color to the arrangement of the table.

The event proved to be one of the leading social occasions of the week.

ORGANIZATION MEETING FOR D. D. I. MEMBERS

Tuesday evening of this week a new club which shall be known as the D. D. I. club, was organized in the home of Gladys Beals on Moody avenue.

A short business session was conducted at which time officers to serve the club were elected. Gladys Beals was named president, Audrey Young vice president, and Marian Fallen was named as secretary.

Remainder of the evening was spent in playing 500, with prizes being awarded to Miss Beals, Doris Kiefer and Georgia Bevan. Following, a delightful luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Beals.

Next meeting will be held in the home of Miss Clara Clobus on Croton avenue, in two weeks.

RAINBOW OFFICERS INSTALLED AT MEETING

Most impressive, were the installation ceremonies conducted Wednesday evening in the East Lodge room of the Scottish Rite Cathedral by members of New Castle Assembly, No. 1, Order of Rainbow for Girls, at 8 o'clock. The work was beautifully exemplified, in the presence of a large gathering of guests, including many Eastern Star associates, Masons, and others from the immediate vicinity and distant cities.

Miss Eleanor McFall was installed as the new worthy advisor for the ensuing term, and Glenna Goad, as worthy associate advisor. Others were; Charity, Naomi Kennedy; Hope, Charlene Bates; Faith, Geraldine Flick.

Miss Jane Bryan, Junior past worthy advisor, presided as the installing officer, and she performed her duties in an efficient manner, being assisted by Jane Bechtol, Isabelle Shaw and Viola Dufford, past worthy advisors. Others who played an important part, were the installing drill leader, Letty Remley; installing marshall, Mauriene Smith; installing chaplan, Wilda Reeher; installing treasurer, past worthy advisor, Margaret Braden; installing reporter, Gerturde Hitchcock.

A program of entertainment, was later presented under the leadership of Mrs. Clifford M. Propst, chairman of the music committee, that added further to the evenings pleasures.

She introduced Miss Helen Allen who contributed two vocal selections with Margaretta Hess, accompanist, as the first feature. A ten piece orchestra, composed of Senior High schol students, gave several selections with Martha Black, at the piano. A baritone solo was given by Charles Coulter with Miss Black playing as his accompaniment as the concluding number. A short informal social period brought the evening to a close.

Rainbow girls will hold two meetings in June, the first falling on June 3, and the second, the 17. The later date, will be in the form of an initiation ceremony, with the new corps of officers in charge. This will end their regular sessions, until fall, when they will again be resumed.

CHEERIO CLUB HEARS INSTRUCTIVE TALK

Mrs. Kenneth McDonald, of East Washington street, proved a charming hostess Wednesday evening, to associates of the Cheerio club. The occasion was featured with an interesting paper on "Parents And Children" given by Mrs. William Burdette, the article having been written by Lawrence Gould. Many details were given attention on the subject, and opinions were expressed by the assemblage. The program closed with a reading by Mrs. Fred Fabian entitled 'The Silver Lining."

During the social hour, Mrs. Edward McKissick was fortunate in receiving the lovely door prize.

Tempting refreshments were served at the dining room table, prettily set with spring suggestions, as a later pleasure, Mrs. Edward Kelley assisted the hostess. On June 3, Mrs. Fred Fabian of 734 Court street, will receive.

W. B. A. TO ATTEND ZELIENOPLE RALLY

W. B. A. Review 98 met last night in the Clendenin hall on Washington street. One new member was admitted to the organization and two new applications received.

An invitation to attend the annual rally at Zelienople on June 2, was read and accepted by the lodge. The officers and guards expect to take part in the program at the rally and a large number of the lodge members are planning to attend.

The New Castle rally will be held in the Clendenin hall on Wednesday afternoon and evening, June 17. Elaborate plans are being forwarded for this event.

A social time was enjoyed later in the evening and the following people were responsible for the arrangements: Mrs. Ethel Thomas Mrs. Anna Cochran, Mrs. Blanche Boston, Mrs. Hattie Nowling.

Guests Of Youngstown O. E. S.

Wednesday evening a group of local women, all Eastern Star associates, motored to Youngstown, O., in the car of Mrs. Gladys Coles, where they attended the initiation and inspection ceremonies, the work being beautifully exemplified by Corem Chapter, 454, O. E. S. Mrs. Luella Cowden, worthy matron, presided, and the entire evening was most impressive.

Mrs. Coles was accompanied by Mrs. Bess Evans, Mrs. Alice Steen, Mrs. Sadie McCreary, Mrs. Emma Leslie and Mrs. Olive Hewitt. A banquet preceded the evening program, and after the entire program, members and guests enjoyed refreshments at a nearby prominent inn.

FORMER RESIDENT MARRIED TUESDAY

MRS. HOMER EMENS

Announcements have been received here, telling of the marriage of Mrs. Elizabeth Atkinson White and Warren Homer Emens, which was an event of Tuesday, May 19, in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Emens, a former resident of New Castle, has been general secretary of Quota International for a number of years, during which time she has made her residence in Washington.

They will be at home to their friends after July 1 at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, Canada.

NURSES AND GUESTS TO FROLIC FRIDAY

The Jameson-Shenango Association, with friends and guests will gather in The Castleton hotel ballroom Friday evening, to participate in a dance, and card playing, the attending ones to make their own choice.

The affair will be attended by everyone interested in donating to a good cause, as the proceeds will be distributed to a good worthy purpose. Indications point to a large crowd, and members of the Lawrence County Medical Society and Auxiliary, will act as patrons and patronesses. An excellent orchestra has been engaged for the event.

Prizes will be awarded to those winning honors in card contests, and additional prizes numbering many, are to be awarded the lucky winners at intervals throughout the evening, including a beautiful door prize and other valuable articles that will beautify any home.

During intermission at 11 o'clock, Miss Billie Glenn and a group of her Dance Academy cuties, will give a fine and entertaining floor show of song and tap dance novelties, a four team acrobatic feature and other acts.

Entertained At Princeton Home

With Mrs. A. W. Castle as their guest, Mrs. Ralph I. Sherman and daughter, Carol, who are enroute from Portsmouth, W. Va., to San Diego, Cal., are spending a few days with Mrs. Sherman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weisz of Princeton.

Mrs. Weisz entertained at a dinner in honor of her daughter Sunday. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gregory and sons, Mrs. L. E. Sherman and son, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hall and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McKee, and Mrs. A. W. Castle.

Mrs. Sherman and daughter will spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Sherman, of Hollidays Cove, W. Va. They plan to leave here on Sunday, stopping for a few days in Mississippi with friends and relatives, and expect to be in San Diego by June 15, where they will join their husbands who are in the U. S. Navy aboard the destroyer U. S. S. Monaghan.

1934 Jolly Quilters

1934 Jolly Quilters club were the guests of Mrs. Pearl Weaver on Morris street, Wednesday, for an all-day social event. A tureen dinner was served at noon, at a table nicely appointed, and following, the time was spent leisurely with quilting and conversation.

The next meeting to be held on Thursday, June 4, will be with Mrs. Emma Maxwell on Croton avenue.

WILLIAM MARTIN AND WIFE VISITING HERE

Mr. and Mrs. William Martin, who have been located in Paterson, New Jersey, the past few weeks, have arrived in New Castle for a short visit at the home of the former's parents, Attorney and Mrs. Harvey Martin, on Park avenue.

Mr. Martin is identified for his excellent work in directing home talent plays. On Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Martin and his three assistants, will leave for Milwaukee, Wis., where Mr. Martin will have charge of the centennial to be held July 3, 4 and 5.

FINE PROGRAM FOR ANNIVERSARY EVENT

The Loyal Men's class of Central Christian Bible school will celebrate the 25th anniversary of the class, Saturday evening. A tureen dinner will be served in the church dining room at 6 o'clock. A fine program has been arranged to take place after dinner. The Loyal Ladies, the Dorcas, the O. B. A., Mrs. Shearer's and the K. E. Smith Bible classes are to be special guests. The program will be as follows:

FRAY RESIDENCE SCENE OF PARTY

Upon arriving at his home on the East Brook road last night, Sam Fray was surprised to find a large number of friends gathered about in the parlor to greet him. The occasion of the surprise being his 17th birthday celebration.

The occasion was arranged by his sisters, Miss Helen Fray and Mrs. Margaret Logan.

During the evening games of various sorts were enjoyed and prizes were awarded to Miss Ella Kincaid, Mary Elizabeth Earl, Margaret Fallen and Johnrae Earl.

At a late hour a luncheon was served by the hostesses, assisted by Miss Marian Fallen.

G. A. R. Women's Corps

The regular meeting of the Women's Relief Corps of the G. A. A. was conducted on Tuesday evening in the Modern Woodmen of America hall on Washington street. One new member, Mrs. Allison, was taken into the group.

During the business session it was planned to participate in a number of Memorial Day exercises. Next Sunday the corps will turn out for the water service to be held at the North street bridge, and will help strew flowers on the water for the departed soldiers and sailors. On another day next week it is planned that the members attend the school nearest their home for their Memorial exercises and represent the Relief Corps.

Bingo was enjoyed for the balance of the evening and prizes were captured by Miss Helen Parks and Mrs. Elizabeth Hoyle.

Next meeting will be Tuesday, June 2, in the Woodmen hall.

Castle Bridge Club

The Castle Bridge club was the guests Wednesday evening at the home of Lila V. Henshaw, East Lincoln avenue.

Two tables of bridge were in play with score awards to Mrs. Merle Francis, Mrs. Wilbert Chapman and Mrs. Charles I. Wetmore.

At a late hour refreshments were served at small tables. In serving the hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. M. E. Henshaw.

The next meeting in two weeks will be at the home of Mrs. C. S. Jarret, South Ray street.

COUNCIL WOMEN END MAY HOSPITAL SEWING

Wednesday morning members of New Castle Section, National Council of Jewish Women, completed a most successful month of sewing for Jameson Memorial hospital, when they assembled in the Solarium of the institution.

An excellent attendance marked the occasion, and the women accomplished much from 9 until 12 o'clock.

This splendid work will be continued during June, by members of the Current Events class, their first session to take place Wednesday morning, June 3. The same hours will be observed, and the organization urges all local women interested in assisting, to be present on this date, a cordial welcome.

Le Bon Temps Club

The Le Bon Temps club were entertained in the home of Dorothy Fletcher, North Mercer street Tuesday evening. Bridge held sway, prizes going to Miss Fletcher and Thelma Morgan. The hostess was aided in serving a dainty repast by Sally Lou Parker, at the close of the entertainment.

Tuesday, June 2, the club will be guests of Mrs. Frank Pyle, at a tea room.

E. E. E. E. Party

Assembling in a downtown tea room recently, E. E. E. E. club members enjoyed a most delightful dinner party.

Following a delicious dinner, the group whiled away the hours pleasantly, playing cards and discussing numerous topics of interest. Prizes were awarded to Miss Betty McIlvenny and Miss Erma Swanton.

In two weeks, Miss Ruth Starke, 224 Falls street will entertain the club.

Italian Family Club

Featuring the recent meeting of the Italian Family club was a party honoring Mrs. Lizzie Rich, 520 Blunston avenue, a new member. The event took place in Mrs. Rich's home and proved most enjoyable.

The pastimes of the evening included music and Italian dancing. Prizes were awarded to Angelo Sands and Tresa Icone. Delicious refreshments were served. The honored guest received many lovely gifts. Musical selections were rendered by Mrs. Concetta Ascione and Angelo Sands.

Chapter 333 Officers Guests

Wednesday evening, a group of women composing officers of Shenango Chapter, No. 333, Order of the Eastern Star, motored to Youngstown, O., and attended the impressive initiation and inspection ceremonies conducted by Corem Chapter, 454 O. E. S., with Mrs. Luella Cowden, worthy matron, presiding in a most gracious manner. The inspection was in charge of the worthy grand matron of the chapter.

Those going from this city, included past matrons, Mrs. Belva Bridenbaugh, Mrs. Estella Weddell, Mrs. Harry Graham, present worthy matron, Mrs. Lucille Falls and associate matron, Mrs. Gula Hess. The group was honored after the ceremonies, at the Hubbard, O., Country Club, where lunch was served.

HOOVER OUT OF CANDIDATES' FIELD

FOR the purpose of ending all discussion concerning his intentions, Herbert Hoover makes the definite announcement that "it should be evident by this time that I am not a candidate." It certainly should be, for throughout the series of addresses he has been making to arouse public sentiment he has asserted that he had no personal ambitions.

Mr. Hoover declares, which is true,, that "the convention will be composed of a most unusual and able personnel." Here and there primaries have expressed preferences and elected, in certain cases, delegates committed to Landon, Borah and Knox. Each one of them is entitled to his full delegate strength. Here in Pennsylvania eighteen or twenty delegates, mostly under a misapprehension, signed documents pledging themselves to abide by the preferential choice. To keep faith, they will vote for Borah, as they should do. He is fairly entitled to delegates from one-half the congressional districts of Illinois, and should receive their support. He should be given no cause for complaint. But the great majority of the delegates will go to Cleveland uninstructed except, as Mr. Hoover puts it, "to find the right thing to do for the country in the greatest crisis we have met in generations."

INDIANS ARE INCREASING

Here is something that will surprise almost every white man in America The Indians are gaining on us Their death rate is falling and their birth rate is now more than three times as high as ours. Indeed, the rate of 48 births per thousand on the reservations is said to be the highest in the world today There has been a great reaction from their vital slump of half a century ago.

Reservation life, since the redskins became accustomed to it, seems to have been good for them as regard quantity, if not quality.

There are obvious conclusions that anyone may draw. If we should decide to give the country back to the Indians, there will be more of them to take it than we have supposed. And if something doesn't happen to change the direction of our own vital statistics curves, the Indians may yet re-inherit the country from sheer force of numbers.

HOLE IN YOUR POCKET

A survey of recent industrial financial statements shows that one problem, above all others, is engaging the attention of business leaders. That problem is taxation.

During the first phase of the recovery movement, the output of many industries greatly advanced—but profits didn't, largely because of the increasing inroad of the tax collector into business' revenues.

Today, with business betterment farther advanced, profits are rising—but, in the view of many experts, not by any sound proportions as compared to increased output. And again, the reason is largely excessive taxation. Executives and investors are beginning to wonder, and are justified in wondering, whether it will be possible for industry, even though "prosperity" of a sort returns, to earn profits compatible with the volume of sales and the risks of carrying on and expanding a business.

Government retrenchment, and the adoption of a plan looking toward the earliest possible balancing of the distorted budget, would do more than anything else in the cause of recovery, reemployment of the millions of unemployed, and the widespread investment of capital. Every citizen who wants a job and savings and real security would benefit.

What taxes actually mean to persons other than those who pay them is shown in startling outline by a statement of the American Iron and Steel Institute that the tax bill of the American steel industry in 1935 was equivalent to a full year's pay for 57,360 employes, or five weeks' pay for every one of the 547,112 employes in the industry.

A MATTER OF COMMON SENSE

A new organization whose sponsors are seeking to enroll a membership of one million voters has been launched under the leadership of Dr. William M. Lewis, president of Lafayette College. It is known as "The League for Political Common Sense," and voters who will cast their first ballots in the November election are preferred as members. As may be deduced from the foregoing, and without any strain on the reasoning power in view of the present campaign, it will be linked with politics, but the link will be of a rather unusual nature. The leaders declare the organization will be free from all influence by political parties and will place no candidates in the field. Questionnaires are to be sent to all candidates, according to current plans, and the replies are to be studied and discussed at open forums conducted by local units. The candidates will have no part in these forums. The findings of all the individual forums will be presented at a national conference to be held during September.

The main objective in urging new voters to join is to attempt to teach them to think for themselves in matters political. A liberal application of common sense to political issues upon the part of all voters would result in the election of officials best fitted for the positions they seek. But common sense is a rather vague term. Every person believes the ideas and opinions he personally and sincerely advances are backed by common sense. Othere may take an entirely opposite viewpoint, and yet be just as firmly convinced they are using common sense. It is a good thing, however, that there is universal agreement upon very few subjects. Otherwise we would come to a complete standstill. There must be a divergence of opinion if any headway is to be made, but the differing views must be of constructive and not a destructive nature.

Preliminary to every election every voter should give intelligent thought to the qualifications of the various candidates. And clear thinking is not an easy task. As long as the new organization promotes the application of that kind of thinking to the political questions that accompany every campaign it will serve a useful purpose. But its members should remain free to exercise their individual judgment and to base their conclusions as to candidates' fitness and the value of policies upon the facts as they see them. The organization contains potentialities for becoming a powerful force for good, as long as its efforts are confined to striving for the very laudable objective of making young, and old, voters think out the issues for themselves. Such a program would be followed by an increase in the number of voters who cast their ballots intelligently.

Senator Harrison has charged certain interests with sending propaganda against the tax bill to Washington. Anybody who sends propaganda to Washington would carry coals to Newcastle

Being YOU!

TIME FLIES, days change to weeks, weeks to years, years into a lifetime. . . . You look back and perhaps it occurs to you that you haven't done everything you hoped, you started out, to do. . . . You haven't been everywhere, you haven't become everything you dreamed of being.

Perhaps you're a little sad about this. Perhaps you're angry, restless, disappointed, disgruntled. . . . Other people win so easily, without even trying, what you longed so desperately to have. . . . Other people have luck. You haven't had it. . . . Or you've suffered the saddest of all fates. You struggled for something, got it, discovered it WASN'T what you wanted.

It may be that you wanted promotion, responsibility, and didn't get it while others did. . . . It doesn't help much to know that there are men and women who do NOT want promotion, responsibility, in this world. . . . You wanted to travel, but you haven't. All your life you've been rooted in one spot, tied down. I know of a very rich woman, rich all her life, who has never gone anywhere, never even traveled across her own country, never went around the world, still lives in the house where she was born. . . . Funny, isn't it?

But the main thing isn't entirely what you get, where you went. It's what you are! . . . Maybe that's no consolation, but it ought to be. You can stay in one spot all your life, seeming to be doing nothing and still accomplish much, become something. . . . Ever hear of the Night Blooming Cereus? It's a fragrant white flower that perfumes the desert. All year long it grows, prepares itself for the one day in the year when it blooms. And it blooms only at midnight and its glory goes with the dawn. If a human being wants to see it he must stay up all night to enjoy that beauty—but it is worth seeing.

Who wants to be a Night Blooming Cereus? . . . Oh well, any life should be SOMETHING like that glorious flower. . . . You can be YOU!

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

WHY?

There is a great deal of talk about the unemployed in America today. It is said that there are just as many now, if not more, than four years ago, and so many more are asking for relief.

The year 1900 marks about the beginning of the real industrial age of America. In 1900 there were approximately 90,000,000 people living in the nation. They were at work and there was no talk of unemployment. The citizens got along very well without any relief, except such as private charities distributed to the sick, afflicted and needy. Just because an able-bodied man did not happen to have a job, charity did not give him a dole, and we, as a nation, got along very well.

Since 1900 has come the automobile, the development of Public Utilities, power and light, the radio, the airplane, the movietone with its many theatres, thousands of miles of paved roads, filled with trucks, busses and passenger automobiles.

Connected with the automobile industry, in the making of automobiles, in the selling of them, in the making of accessories, tires, batteries and the thousand and one gadgets that go into the automobile, the paving of roads and the thousands of service stations, employment has increased until there are at least 25,000,000 employed by reason of the automobile alone, that were not employed in any such enterprise in 1900.

Adding to these, the millions that are employed in the power and light companies, in the making and distributing of radios, in the making of picutres and the showing of them, in the work of broadcasting over the networks of the great broadcasting companies, in the making and operation of the airplane, the citizen is lead to wonder why there is so much unemployment. There are at least 50,000,000 employed today in enterprises that were not in existence in 1900 and how many men have been displaced because of it? In the iron and steel business there are more men employed today than there were in 1900,—a great many more, and yet there is talk of unemployment.

The writer thinks that the I. W. Ws.—the I Won't Workers—are responsible for all of this propoganda.

NO LOVE FOR DOGS

To The Journal: I read Hopeful's pathetic letter about dogs in her garden and wish to ask, "Why are dogs?"

The dog owners say that they love dogs or that dogs are their best friends. Then why don't they keep their dogs to themselves and not inflict them on people who do not love them and who consider them enemies of the garden instead of friends?

We flower lovers keep our flowers in our own yards and I wonder why something can't be done to make dog owners keep their dogs in their own yards. Instead of fining people who painlessly put to death dogs trespassing on private property, why not fine the owner of the dog that does the trespassing? In a few minutes a dog can ruin a flower bed which takes weeks to grow, to say nothing of the back breaking work it takes to make it. And beauty is destroyed for that season. And still the dog roams on and continues to destroy. All I ask for is fairness.

SPLASH!

It was one of those snooty canine aristocrats with legs so short he should have had castors to keep his tummy from scraping. The dock on which he strutted with his mistress was low, the water only a foot away. Doggily, snootily, he trotted majestically out over the water, his head in the air, his little legs twinkling. And, when he came to the end of the dock, he kept right on trotting. After the splash the purp came to the surface, and if ever face, human or animal, registered hurt amazement, it was that of the stump-legged dog.

DEAR Miss Markel: If, at a dance, I am sitting talking with some one and a man friend asks me to dance, what should I do. Also, when I am dancing with one man and another cuts in, must I ask my partner's permission before consenting? D. D.

Answer: If you really wish to dance with the young man, and you have not the dance taken, excuse yourself to the person to whom you are talking and be off! Of course, if you are sitting out a dance with a man and another asks you to give him that particular dance, do not acquiesce. Explain to him that you are sitting it out and will give him one later.

The man who is cutting in should put his hand on your partner's shoulder saying: "May I cut in?" After your partner has given his consent (which he must always do), the "cutter-in" should thank him.

You are the helpless victim who must stand by while the question is settled by your two admirers. As you are on your way with your "captor," you might say to your erstwhile dancing partner: "Better luck next time," "May we meet again soon" or some such light remark.

Social Security Problem.
May Prove Boomerang To G. O. P.
France And Russia Fearful.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

SOME OBSERVERS believe that the Republicans have lost hundreds of thousands of votes through their opposition in several states to social security measures. That is particularly true in New York state, where the Republican-dominated senate three times killed Governor Lehman's social security bill. This bill would have enabled New York to come within the scope of the federal social security measure.

The Republican opposition has been congratulating itself on the blow given to the New Deal — but some of the cautious observers among the Republicans believe the blow may be a devastating boomerang.

* * *

SOCIAL SECURITY

Nothing at the moment is appealing more to the mass of people than social security.

Scouts afield report this constantly. The movement is growing, not lessening.

Roosevelt measures are considered too moderate, if anything. Killing them, or preventing them from functioning, may lead to drastic measures by forces that are gaining recruits daily.

And, worse for business, those drastic measures will be strongly inflationary.

Such is the report of reliable scouts.

* * *

UNBALANCED BUDGETS

Financial news from overseas is not reassuring.

The debt of the American federal government, and its unbalanced budget, are proportionately much smaller than similar manifestations abroad. (This is not to "excuse" this manifestation here.)

France, the last country to hold out of public spending, now is to enter upon it in a big way.

Germany and Italy are spending furiously. The more they spend the less their money is worth.

And "cautious" England is madly handing out the money on armaments.

The Soviet Union seems the best adjusted. Its expenditures on armaments as well as improvements, however, total high.

The people of the world seem bent on unbalancing budgets—and making money worth less and less through the process of making it "more plentiful". In a majority of the countries, the printing of more money and the extension of credit is mistaken for the fundamental spreading out of wealth and the consequent increase in purchasing power through co-operative sharing.

* * *

FEARFUL

The two most fearful countries in Europe are France and the Soviet Union.

France, of course, fears Germany. The reich has one-and-a-half times the population of France.

The Soviet Union's problem is explained by David H. Popper in Foreign Policy Reports, in these words:

"Military leaders in the U. S. S. R. must envisage simultaneous hostilities in east and west, thousands of miles apart.

"On the analogy of the pre-war Schlieffen plan, under which the Germans crossed Belgium into France, the buffer states on the Soviet western border are not deemed complete protection against German aggression. Soviet authorities fear a Nazi attack on their territory, with Germany using Finnish airports and advancing on land through Lithuania.

"Other observers, citing the defection of Poland from the ranks of France's allies, envisage a Polish-German assault on the U. S. S. R.—the Germans to gain territories in the Baltic region while the Poles attack in the south and retain a portion of the Ukraine.

"Meanwhile, Japan's rearmament and recurrent incidents along the Manchurian and Mongolian frontiers, as well as the Japanese policy of constructing strategic railways facilitating an advance into Eastern Siberia, give rise to fears of war in Asia."

NELLIE BUYS A HAT

I know she buys with utmost care
And thinks that bonnet fit to wear.
I know for days and days she shopped
At every window stock she stopped
And gazed upon the styles displayed
Before the final choice was made.
Three friends she took to lunch one day
Merely to hear what they might say,
And tried on bonnets by the score
Only to look about some more.

I overheard discussions that
Were centered on a springtime hat.
I know that purchase wasn't made
'Till every little doubt was weighed.
And did it make her figure trim
To wear that upturned saucer brim?
And was that green stuff at the face
A decoration to adore?
And so I say with utmost care
She chose that frightful thing to wear.

Now like a dish with salad spread
She proudly wears it on her head,
And I behold her with a smile—
Sweet victim of the latest style.
O'er such a labored, careful choice
Why should I my opinion voice?
When woman picks a hat to wear
With so much anguish, thought and care,
Although he thinks the thing absurd,
A man should never say a word.

The Dutch had set up a republic, which the Inquisition decreed was a heresy punishable by death, and gave Philip authority to destroy them.

He actually attempted to carry out the mass execution, and thousands were slain by his army, causing a 40-year war from which Dutch emerged victorious, with their republic recognized.

Six Hour Day For Pupils?

In a communication received from an anonymous writer, a six hour day for pupils in the public schools is advocated. In the communication the writer sets out that school children are peculiarly liable to injury from over work and over worry.

Both the brilliant student and the dull student are victims of the present school system according to the writer, the first because he has more work piled on him than he should and the second because he is unable to keep up with the program set for him. Six hours a day in school and no home work are urged in the communication, the writer believing that this should be enacted into law and any one taking books home from school would be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Making Plans For Presbyterian Picnic

Mahoningtown Congregation To Have Outing At Cascade Park, June 10

Plans and preparations are now underway for the annual Sunday school picnic of the Mahoning Presbyterian church which will be held on June 10 at Cascade Park.

Arthur Walker, superintendent of the Sunday school department appointed a general picnic committee and they in turn selected the following committees:

General Picnic Committee—Frank Wallace, Ruth Glenn, Mrs. Herman Alexander, Arthur Brown, George Cook.

Lose Big Hips Fat Stomachs Double Chins

Lose Fat The Easy Way—Without Starvation Diets, or Back-Breaking, Bending and Rolling Exercises.

There is no mystery about this method. Doctors have been prescribing it for years. It is based on a scientific discovery of the medical profession that excess fat in many cases is caused by a little gland that does not work well.

Every drop of our blood goes through this tiny gland sixteen times a day. It produces about one and one-half drops of vital fluid every 24 hours. The action of this fluid on the blood is much the same as the action a good draft has on the burning of coal in a furnace. It turns on the "draft" that increases the speed with which food and fatty tissues "burn up".

If this gland doesn't pour out about one and one-half drops of its vital fluid a day, many people take on fat.

Doctors find a simple easy way to remedy this condition is to feed this gland the substance it lacks. Then, many people get rid of the excess flesh that swells out their figures in ugly bumps and lumps.

Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on this same method so generally used by modern doctors. Millions are using them with success. They are prepared by a world-famous medical laboratory. Their formula is given in every package so you know what you're taking.

For 28 years millions of fat people have found Marmola Prescription Tablets effective for the reduction of ugly fat. Don't take chances with starvation diets or back-breaking exercises. Get a box of Marmola from your druggist today.

Class Meets At McCracken Home

Loyal Workers Class Has Monthly Meeting On Wednesday Evening

Members of the Loyal Workers class of the Madison Avenue Christian church were entertained Wednesday evening at the home of Mr and Mrs. Leslie McCracken on the Harlansburg road.

A short business meeting filled the earlier hours with the president Miss Sue Parks, presiding, after which the remainder of the evening was spent socially.

Later places were laid for 12 guests at a table attractively decocrated with spring flowers as a tempting lunch was served by the hostess.

Plans were made to meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Douds, Epworth street, on June 17.

E. A. M. CLASS

The E. A. M. Class of the Presbyterian church will have a 6 o'clock tureen dinner tonight at the church.

Sold Heavenly Land As Hell's Fire Insurance

(International News Service)

JASSY, Rumania—For $25 every Rumanian can buy an acre of land in Paradise and insure himself and family against the risk of fire after they leave this world.

So declared Father Glicherie, leader of a new religious sect known as the "Stylists." He acted as sole agent for the Paradise estate and no less than 280 persons bought through him land in Heaven. Fr. Glicherie handed his customers a title to their property and all they had to do in order to enter in the possession of their plot in Paradise was to hold this title in their hands when they were put in their coffins.

While many peasants considered Father Glicherie a saint and are certain that his real estate business in Paradise is genuine and perfectly legitimate, the Rumanian police think otherwise. They arrested him on charges of obtaining money on false pretenses. He was forced to return the money to his victims but the majority of them have refused to take it back, stating that they are free to invest their savings as they deem fit.

Sees Palestine As Source Of 'Missing Link'

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Palestine ...the 'Times Square" of early man ...may supply many missing links in the study of his evolutionary chain.

Such was the interesting possibility advanced by Professor Geo. Grant MacCurdy, of Yale University, who termed Palestine "the meeting place of three great land masses—Asia, Europe and Africa—in one of which man first appeared."

"In spreading to the other two he might have made use of the route by way of Palestine," said Dr. MacCurdy. "Recent discoveries of fossil mammals in the caves of Palestine indicate that during the early Pleistocene period the connection of Asia and Africa was as pronounced as that between Asia and Europe."

The Wady el-Mughara group on the western slope of Mount Carmel has been the scene of particularly fine skeletal finds, he added.

Deny Slashing Of Cotton Mill Wages

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 21.—The Cotton-Textile Institute, Inc., today issued a formal denial of "a Washington rumor that a wave of wage cutting by southern cotton mills has followed the supreme court's decision in the Guffey Coal Act case Monday."

The statement added:

"As a matter of fact, not a single instance of wage cutting in cotton mills since the decision has come to the attention of the institute and the only case in several weeks is that of a small print cloth mill which had already announced a new wage scale to become effective this week. This mill, it should be stressed, operates only 500 looms, or less than one half of one per cent of the looms in the print division of the industry."

Sportsmen's Council To Assemble Friday

Members of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's council, composed of all the officers of the different sportsmen's organizations in the county, will meet at the Y. M. C. A. on Friday evening, May 22 at 7:30, John P. Boyles, the council's president, announced today.

Distribution of ringneck pheasant chicks will take up most of the meeting, Boyles said. Some 2,200 chicks are to be distributed by the state to all the sportsmen in the county this summer.

TOWNSEND MEETING

REMOVE INLAY FROM LUNG OF DENTIST

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Gold inlays are fine in their place, Dr. Archibald B. Stote agreed today, but that place is not in a lung.

Dr. Stote, a dentist, needed some dental work done on his own teeth so he visited a fellow practitioner. During the work a large gold inlay suddenly slipped down Dr. Stote's throat and lodged in his lung.

After 45 minutes of delicate work with a bronchoscope, the piece of metal was extracted.

N. H. B. Kensington

Most delightful, was the meeting of the N. H. B. kensington, held Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. LeRoy Martin, Albert street. The usual procedure of chat, music and fancy work was carried out, and at the close of the entertainment the hostess served delicious refreshments. The dining room table was prettily decorated in suggestions of the season for this feature.

On June 2, the club will be received by Mrs. Harry Remley, 940 Marshall avenue.

G. K. W. Club

Mrs. T. Nelson was hostess to the G. K. W. club Wednesday at her home on North Crawford avenue, having as a special guest, Mrs. John Wettich. The hours were passed in a pleasant fashion with cards, sewing and chat, and following, a delicious lunch was served. The hostess used spring appointments in her table arrangements, and was assisted by Mrs. Wettich with the menu.

Their next assembly will be held Wednesday, June 3, with Mrs. Clyde Burry, Greenwood avenue.

Married At Parsonage

Abigail Trick and Robert H. Huston, both of New Castle, were united in marriage by Rev. J. A. Galbraith, D. D., in the Epworth Methodist Episcopal church parsonage on Epworth street, this morning at 11:15 o'clock. The ring ceremony was used.

The couple departed for a wedding trip to Buffalo, and Niagara Falls, and upon their return will reside at 412 Bartram avenue.

Mr. Huston is engaged in the hardware business on Long avenue.

B. N. W. Club

The B. N. W. club members, were guests in the home of Mrs. W. R. Nicholson, Court street, Wednesday evening. Bridge was the main pastime, with Mrs. Arthur Hawk and Mrs. John Evans capturing the awards for holding honors. Two guests were Mrs. R. W. Harris and Mrs. Arthur Gray. The latter assisted her sister, Mrs. Nicholson, in serving a tempting lunch at a later hour.

Mrs. Cora Smith, of Huron avenue, will entertain the group, on Wednesday, June 10.

TRI-QUAD GIRLS ARE GUESTS WEDNESDAY

Associates of the Tri-Quad Bridge club, were entertained Wednesday evening at a prominent tea room, with Miss Elizabeth Morrow presiding as hostess. The occasion proved most delightful, with cards featuring the early period. Mrs. C. M. Booher and Geraldine McClelland carried off the honor score trophies.

A delicious repast served at tables beautifully appointed in tones of pink and white, concluded the occasion.

Mrs. A. G. Reynolds invited the group to be her guests on Wednesday evening, June 3.

CULINARY LESSON FEATURES MEETING

At 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, members of New Castle Section, National Council of Jewish Women assembled in their social rooms at Temple Israel and held an interesting session. Mrs. S. Levine, Mrs. G. Stone and Mrs. L. Reinhart presided as hostesses.

The usual routine period was conducted, and the social period was turned over to Mrs. William Cosel, who gave an interesting lesson on 'How To Make Raised Rolls." A short discussion concluded the meeting.

W. E. Club Entertained

Mrs. Lissie McKissick, Mrs. Jesse Dufford and Mrs. William McBride, were fortunate prize winners Wednesday evening, in the home of Mrs. Harold Good, Hazel street, who entertained in a charming manner her associates of the W. E. club.

Piles All Gone
Without Salves or Cutting

Itching, bleeding, protruding piles go quickly, if you remove the cause. Bad blood circulation in the hemorrhoidal veins causes piles by making the affected parts weak, flabby and lifeless. Salves and cutting often fail because only an internal medicine can actually correct these conditions. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt discovered a real internal Pile medicine. After a fine record of success with it in his own practice, he named it HEM-ROID. Eckerd's Cut Rate and New Castle Drug Co. and all druggist invite every Pile suffered to try HEM-ROID with guarantee of money back if not joyfully satisfied with the help one bottle gives.

MOVIE MAKEUP—AN ART IN ITSELF

Jean Hersholt—as he is — Jean Hersholt—an old man

Hours of painstaking labor by a makeup expert in Hollywood can do this to a man—Jean Hersholt, character actor, being the man. At the left Hersholt is his natural self. At the right, Jean is a disheveled old man. The process consists of gumming Hersholt's hat flat on his head. A wig is then plastered on. Strips of tissue, soaked in collodion, are attached to his lower eyelids and then glued to his cheeks to cause the eye droop. Grease paint and an artificial beard complete the makeup.

THE NEWS, ONE YEAR, BY MAIL, $5.00

Lad 'Sleeping' In Glass Case Dead 80 Years

(International News Service)

BUDAPEST—An 80-year-old embalmed body of a six-year-old boy was found in the estate of the last member of an old Hungarian family who died recently. The child's mummy was in a glass case in the attic of a house.

According to documents it is the body of Pubi Aranyi, who died exactly 80 years ago. It is sitting on a tiny chair, dressed in a purple coat and white trousers. The face is like that of a sleeping child.

Pubi Aranyi was the son of Dr. Louis Aranyi, a one-time famous physician, Professor of the Budapest University. When his son, whom he adored, died from dyptheria, he obtained a special license not to bury him. He embalmed the body of the child, and kept the mummy in a glass case opposite his desk in his study. Eighty years did not do any harm to the placid beauty of the dead child's face. The mummy is now in the possession of the Pathological Institute of University.

Camouflage Done By Real Artists

(International News Service)

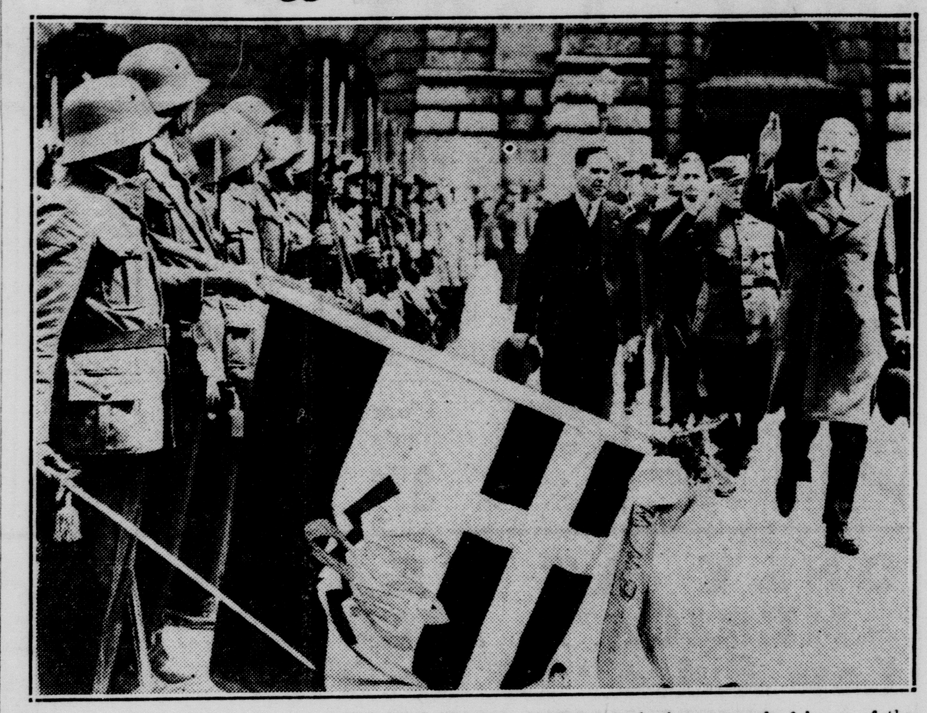
EBEN-EMAEL, Belgium—Whereas French camouflage is cubist and blotchy, the Belgian general staff has decided to be natural. A camouflage painter has to be an artist in this country, as this correspondent discovered in an inspection of the new fortifications.

Trees and flowers were painted in natural tints on a grayish-green background of concrete. A general staff officer told me that this blends more easily into the landscape than the old-style camouflag. which is like modernistic painting of the early school, when a cow looked more like a pile of bricks.

Month are required before the camouflage fortresses are brought into harmony with their surroundings. Landscape artists have to be called in to assist.

Starlings are great financiers. They wait until other birds have built a nest and then take it.

Schuschnigg's "Army," the Freiheitsbund



Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg, his hand raised in salute, is shown reviewing a guard of honor of the Catholic Workers' Association called the Freiheitsbund (League of Liberty). The picture was made in Vienna at a time when former Vice Chancellor von Starhemberg's Heimwehr troops were fighting with members of the Freiheitsbund in other sections of the city. The clash precipitated the crisis in which Starhemberg was dropped from the cabinet. (Central Press)

TB Deaths For Negroes Tenfold That Of Whites

(International News Service)

HARTFORD, Conn.—Death rate among Negroes from tuberculosis is ten times as high as the rate among whites, and is as high as the white rate 50 years ago.

Although the death rate from tuberculosis has decreased sharply in the past half a century, the drop is almost exclusively among the whites.

These conclusions were reached by the City Board of Health following a study of statistics.

"While the negro population is only about 4 per cent of the total, 29 per cent of the deaths are in the colored group," the Health Board stated. Nineteen per cent of those who register at the tuberculosis in Hartford was 356 per 100,000 population. Following is a table for the past five years:

1931 white 49, colored 514; 1932 white 42, colored 291; 1933 white 63, colored 272; 1934 white 30, colored 363; 1935 white 32, colored 363.

Only Spend $4 A Year On Coeds

(International News Service)

BERKELEY, Cal.—The average University of California male spends exactly four dollars a year in entertaining co-eds according to a survey made public by the university advertising service. And for this measly return in entertainment, says the same survey, the poor females invest $420,000 in cosmetics.

The advertising bureau surveyed 20 other colleges and discovered, according to its report, that:

At Washington State University, for instance, co-ed entertainment comes even cheaper than in Berkeley, amounting on the average to $2.25 a year. At Tulane University, southern chivalry demands of each male Tulane the expenditure of $125 annually on co-eds.

Hundred Women At Missionary Meeting

Members of the four missionary societies and all ladies of the Highland United Presbyterian church were invited on Wednesday afternoon to the home of Mrs. D. L. Ferguson, Sheridan avenue, where a very interesting and profitable missionary program occupied their attention.

There were more than 100 women present. Mrs. Earl Carpenter was in charge of the devotions and Miss Bess Allen led the prayer cycle. Several beautiful misisonary numbers were sung by the group under the direction of Mrs. June Bernard.

The speaker, Mrs. Duncan Henry, of New Wilmington, was then introduced by Mrs. Ferguson. She told of her work in Ethiopia in a clear and an effective maner and displayed a number of articles made by natiyes.

During her talk she read a letter received on the same day from her husband, Dr. Henry, who is located in Addis Ababa.

The program was closed by benediction from Mrs. Clarence Fischer. A short social time followed during which Mrs. Ferguson was assisted in serving by the members of the Baird Society.

Charge Two With Taking Checks

State Troopers Hennicheck and Stinnett and a secret service operator yesterday arrested Horce McHenry, colored, South Mercer street and Arthur W. Grannis, R. Buddy Poppies Will Be On Sale Here Saturday

Fifteenth Annual Poppy Day Sale Will Be Conducted By McBride Post

PROCEEDS GO TO POST CHARITIES

Buddy poppies, those blood-red emblems significant of the sacrifice of America during the World War, will be sold on the streets here again Saturday by members of the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and their representatives.

It will be the fifteenth annual Poppy Day of the local V. F. W. Post, and hundreds of people are expected to wear these emblems, significant of the Memorial Day season.

Carl Staeber, chairman for Poppy Day, announced today that all arrangements have been completed for the event.

Pursuant to the rules and regulations governing the annual sale of Buddy Poppies as conducted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, the disbursement of all proceeds gained by individual local units, state departments and the national organization must be confined to the following channels, Chairman Staeber states;

For the aid, benefit and comfort of ex-service men and their dependents.

For maintenance and expansion of the V. F. W. National Home for widows and orphans.

Hospital relief, individual relief for ex-service men, their widows and orphans and hospital entertainment.

Special equipment for hospital patients, or for the use of hospitals.

Service bureau work including Veteran's Bureau liaison.

Military funerals for deceased ex-service men.

Acquisition, improvement and maintenance of burial plots and decoration of graves of ex-service men.

Local Girls' Club Receives National Recognition In Y. W.

Opinion On "How To Acquire Freedom," Submitted By Local Club, Published

For submitting the best answer to the question "How is it Possible to Acquire Freedom?" the Good Will Graduates Club of the New Castle Y. W. C. A. has received recognition in the bulletin published by the National Y. W. C. A.

Some time ago national headquarters contracted the various business and professional girls' clubs of all Y. W. C. A's. in the nation and suggested four subjects for panel discussions, and asked that the conclusions drawn from the discussions be submitted in writing at the close.

The local club had a panel discussion on question No. 3 and came to the decision that the best way to acquire freedom is "by an intelligent adjustment to one's environment."

This was judged at New York City to be the best answer to that question submitted by any Y. W. C. A. club and was published a few days ago in the national bulletin.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

MATCHES MADE ON CAMPUS

Recently I was invited to speak on marriage before the student assembly of Findlay College, Findlay, O. This is a small college with men and women students (co-educational). Here are some things I said:

"I believe in the small co-educational college. I found my wife in one. Some day a college like this will consider as among its greatest achievements the number of successful marriages it inspires.

"While one marriage out of seven, on the average, goes on the rocks in this country, only one out of 75 made from 'matches' on the campus of co-educational colleges is wrecked, according to Hamilton. The chances are that the small church-supported college ranks at the very top in furthering successful marriage. Students there come from families very similar in home background—an item very favorable to happy marriage. The church homes, morever, represented by a majority of the students, rank high in conserving wholesome family ideals. Here is a strong argument for the small church-supported college."

If I were president of one of these colleges—I'm not looking for a job—I would, after making sure the scholastic standards were adequate, emphasize two items: First, I would encourage intelligent matchmaking on the campus and afford abundant wholesome opportunities for the two sexes to mingle socially. I would put on a good marriage course that would be elective, which course would include, or be supplemented by, family relationship and child guidance. (On the pervious day I lectured in a course on marriage in another small co-educational institution, Bluffton College, Bluffton, Ohio.)

STUDENT-TEACHER RELATION CLOSE

Secondly, I would encourage a close student-teacher relationship. In a college of from two to five hundred students with most living on the campus, the opportunity for wholesome human contacts by students with their professors is very great. Yet how incompletely is this opportunity realized? All too many teachers in the small college are no closer to their students than the professors in the big universities.

A few of these church colleges, alas, are selling their souls in their efforts to ape some larger colleges and universities by purchasing athletes.

I once heard the celebrated scientist, Dr. James McKeen Cattell, at whose feet I used to sit as a student, say that the small college, in its scholastic endeavors, should aim to have one outstanding department to give it distinction in the academic world.

Unless small church-colleges can excel in some of these directions, they are doomed to die and deserve to die. Yet I believe some of them will live on, and ought to live, because of the peculiar contribution they can make, especially to family life.

To Hold Inquest In Boy's Death

SHARON, Pa., May 21.—Dr. W. A. Applegate, county coroner, today set Saturday as the time for an inquest into the death of Melville Blake, 15, Wilmington township schoolboy, fatally injured May 12 by an automobile driven by Clair Baker, R. D. 4, Volant. The inquest will be held in the court house at Mercer.

NURSES MADE IT FAMOUS!

Now Millions Use Famous Medicated Cream

To relieve skin irritations, to promote rapid healing

DO YOU suffer from Chapped Hands, Chafing, Pimples or any other Skin Irritation from external causes? Then, by all means get an inexpensive trial jar of famous Noxzema Medicated Cream.

Doctors first prescribed Noxzema for Burns, Eczema and other similar skin troubles. But it was nurses who discovered how marvelous Noxzema is for badly Chapped Skin, Chafing, Sore, Aching Feet—and for many cases of disfiguring Pimples. They used it themselves—told friends and patients about it.

Today over 12,000,000 jars of Noxzema are used yearly! Noxzema is known from coast to coast—and in distant countries. Famous for its quick soothing relief, famous for promoting rapid healing of many ugly skin flaws.

What It Is

Antediluvian Tea is a combination of twenty Herbs, Roots and Barks. It is a new and advanced medicine taking advantage of the latest scientific discoveries, and using those Herbs, Roots and Barks which have been relied upon by the Medical profession for hundreds of years. It is taken as a cup of fragrant Herb tea at meal time to mix with the foods you eat. In this way it is not only delightful to the taste, but stimulates the elimination of waste matter and toxic acids that clog the system.

What It Will Do

The cleansing of the body will be gradual, usually starting within eight hours after drinking your first cup of this fragrant Herb Tea and continuing therafter as you follow directions until the hard solid fecal matter that often remains weeks in the system has been thrown off.

Antediluvian Tea will cause a temporary increase in the flow of urine thus flushing the kidneys and bladder. A gradual regulation of the bowel movement will also be noticed without the customary griping and painful experiences that follow where harsh laxatives are taken.

A great improvement will also be noticed in many cases of gas on the stomach, heart burn, dizzyness, headaches, gastric acidity, sleeplessness, skin irritations, rheumatism, lumbago, arthritis, neuritis, high and low blood pressure. These remarkable results are made possible while drinking Antediluvian Tea due to the fact that with the cleaning up of the inside of the body by the elimination of waste products and toxic acids, the glands, organs and various systems of the body are better able to go back to work which when carried to its logical end, results in a return to "Health".

Jones Opposes Senate Probe

State WPA Director Ascused Of "Evasive Tactics" In Regard To Probe

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 21.—States Works Progress Administrator Edward N. Jones today stood accused of "evasive tactics" in endeavoring to avoid an investigation by a state senate committee of the WPA in Pennsylvania.

"Mr. Jones is on record as declaring he is not sure the proposed senate investigation of WPA will be made in good faith," M. Harvey Taylor, State Republican chairman, said. "That utterance reveals 'Eddie' quite in character. Past performances indicate that the WPA czar and good faith are total strangers."

In Interest Of All

Taylor, in a formal statement, said if the WPA was "honestly and efficiently administered" in the state, "no excessive amount of money, such as Governor Earle demands, would be necessary for direct relief."

"The intention of the state senate, by means of the Owlett resolution, is perfectly plain and conceals no subterfuge or partisan purpose," Taylor continued. "It is in the interest of all the taxpayers of the state, whether they be Democrats or Republicans."

Shenango P. T. A. Party Wednesday

Recognition Night At East New Castle Institution Proves Marked Success

Wednesday evening was recognition night in the Shenango township school when the Shenango Parent-Teacher association entertained with a delightful party given in the school auditorium.

Athletic and scholarship awards were made during the presentation of an enjoyable program. Tables were set in the auditorium which was appropriately decorated in school colors. An appetizing luncheon was served.

The program presented:

Pep singing.

Talk on music—Alzetta Pander.

Talk on Scholarship—Sylvia Halteinen.

Talk on Dramatics—Betty Davis.

Instrumental duet—Harvey Ketzel, Carl McIltrot.

Talk on football—Patsy Bulisco.

Girls basketball—Ida Betty Clark.

Boys basketball—John Pack.

Talk on baseball—Harvey Ketzel.

Vocal solo—Joe Gunineny.

Girls basketball letter awards—Mrs. Frances Mills Zeigler, coach.

Certificate and letters in athletics—George Phelps, coach.

Scholarship and activity awards—Edwin Canon, principal.

Awards of Senior Keys—Edwin Canon.

In behalf of the girl's basketball team, Miss Ida Betty Clark presented Coach Mrs. Zeigler with a lovely gift; Joe McIltrot, in behalf of the boys' team, presented Coach Phelps with an appropriate gift. Miss Margaret Cowmeadow, who was in charge of introducing the speakers, performed her duties capably. The occasion was a marked success.

Reach Agreement On Protection Of Railroad Employes

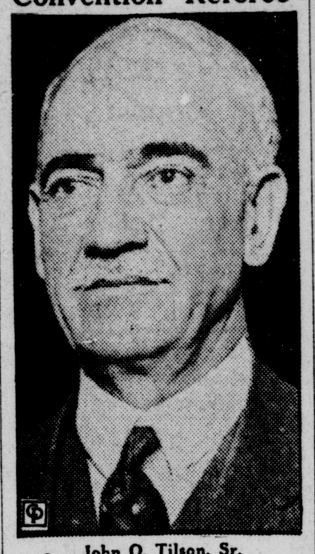
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Representatives of railroad labor and management reported to President Roosevelt today they had finally reached an agreement concerning the protection of some 200,000 employes who might be affected by unification and consolidation.

The agreement runs for five years, beginning June 18.

Underworld big shots hire men to kill their competitors, too, but they don't call it a noble and sacred cause.

Convention 'Referee'



John Q. Tilson, Sr.

John Q. Tilson, Sr., of New Haven, former representative from Connecticut, and one-time majority leader in the house, will serve as parliamentarian during the Republican national convention in Cleveland in June. His duties will be to rule on any questions of parliamentary procedure that may arise during the session.

Merchants Act On Closing Hours Before Holidays

Stores Will Not Remain Open On Evenings Preceding Memorial Day And Fourth

Members of the Merchants Division of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce met Wednesday in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce to take action on closing hours preceding Memorial Day and the Fourth of July, with President A. L. Bintz in charge of the meeting.

After a thorough discussion of the matter, it was decided not to keep open on these two evenings, and the Merchants Division asks all merchants of the city to conform to that arrangement.

James Mercer, manager of the J. C. Penney Company, was named chairman of the Chamber of Commerce membership committee and is working on plans for a membership campaign which will be started in the next few days.

They also again heartily endorsed the policy of being opposed to promiscuous soliciting, sale of tickets, advertising, cook books, participating in the support of socials and things of this nature, and all have agreed to subscribe to the prevention of this form of solicitation from the merchants. This will save the business interests of New Castle many thousands of dollars annually which it is felt they have been unfairly compelled to expend each year. Those joining the Chamber of Commerce and affiliating with the Merchants Division will have this protection by the concerted effort of the organization.

Robot Flight To Stratosphere Is Eagerly Watched

Radio Report Shows That Robot Flier Has Reached Height Of 10 Miles

(International News Service)

SWARTHMORE, Pa., May 21.—First of a series of robot flights into the stratosphere to explore conditions beyond the earth's atmospheric limits got off to a flying start from the riding field of Swarthmore college today.

Three hours later, Bartol Fundation scientists announced, a radio report was received from the 1,800-cubic foot bag indicating it had reached a 10-mile height.

"We expect that it may reach 13 miles," announced Dr. Thomas H. Johnson of the Bartol Foundation and Franklin Institute of Philadelphia. Dr. Johnson explained that the balloon, far out of sight, carried an atmospheric barometer to record conditions and an automatic radio device to transmit data back to earth.

Students, research workers and townspeople gathered at the field to watch the ascent, the first attempt to explore the stratosphere by remote control. Among interested spectators was eight-year-old Donald Picard, son of Dr. Jean Picard, famous French stratosphere pioneer, who designed the bag.

Attorney Reynolds Undergoes Operation

The condition of Attorney Walter S. Reynolds, who underwent an operation at the Jameson Memorial hospital this forenoon is reported fair. Following the operation it was necessary to have a blood transfusion. This is not unusual in such cases and if there are no adverse developments it is believed that he will recover.

BRITAIN WILL NOT PAY DEBT

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 21.—Britain today dashed hopes for any early settlement of the problem of her defaulted debts to the United States.

Asked whether he would open new debt negotiations with America, Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, advised the house of commons that "I cannot add anything to the last note to the United States government on November 10, 1935."

My New York
By James Aswell

(Copyright, 1936, by Central Press Assn.)

NEW YORK, May 21.—False Alarm: The thin young man with the hollow eyes and long gluey hair, glances about more fanatically than furtively. He slips into the tenement doorway and quickly pours a small bottle of gasoline into a baby carriage. It is two o'clock in the morning and the flame mounts quickly.

Then he runs, as fast as he can run. Slowing to a quick walk when he sees a figure that might be a policeman on the dark East Side streets. Ten blocks, fifteen blocks, twenty. He sidles up to a fire alarm box, expertly pulls the lever. Within thirty seconds there is a scream of sirens and a hook-and-wagon truck careens around a corner two squares away. The little red roadsters with the red lights, bearing fire officials, roar up.

But the thin young man is not there. Not any longer. He is on his way back, devously, to watch the fire he started nearly a mile away. The equipment, summoned to the false alarm, won't be able to combat the real fire quite as quickly as otherwise it might have. The young man's eyes gleam as he sees a dull red glow mounting against the East River sky. Closer, now, he hears a woman's high-pitched yell of panic. He moistens his lips luxuriously.

Meanwhile there has been an accident at the scene of the false alarm. Turning the last corner, a fireman has been hurled from his seat. He lies motionless on the pavement with a fractured skull. The ambulance should be here any minute now. But his brother firemen can't wait. They must rush to the real fire. . . . It's already a two-alarm.

* * *

Ship Sailing: On the West Side Elevated Highway cars drone by obliviously. One of the great, dark piers has a facade blooming with lights. The porters hang about the entrance and taxis wheel up one by one to the narrow door. The women dismounting from the taxis, and from occasional limousines, wear orchids on their shoulders.

It is 11 P. M. Somewhere a ship's whistle dirges once. Inside the big pier building an elevator bobs up and down the three flights to the main pier, where passengers embark. A moving escalator carries baggage up. Over all there is, for those staying at home, an atmosphere of subtle gloom; almost of menace.

A few piers down the line two melancholy pickets pace up and down before a darkened doorway. Their signs, which cannot be easily read in the half light, warn passengers from such and such a boat, or steamship line. But now the crush increases at the doorway to the pier where a ship is about to depart. The usual drunk in evening dress is poured out of a taxi amid great hilarity by his friends, who jostle folk trying to get inside and generally make nuisances of themselves under the misapprehension that they are charming playboys and playgirls.

Only a few minutes now. The long stone pier is lined with people, getting their passports checked, their tickets approved, sending telegrams. There are many pretty girls, all apparently about to sail away on this boat. They troop up the gangplank, orchidaceous and merry-eyed. Now the whistle glooms all over you, loud and sad. Hurry increases in the throng. Ten minutes now.

A stowaway is marched down the gangplank from tourist class, with a brace of officers.

Another whistle blast. The jangle of a warning gong floats out from the main salon, the promenade decks.

Suddenly all the pretty girls troop back down the gangplank. They are not sailing after all. They are merely there to make male passengers think the voyage is going to be a great success. Now the gangplank is rising. . . .

Works on 'Peace Roll'

Mme. Clara Guthrie d'Arcis

From her home in Geneva, Switzerland, Mme. Clara Guthrie d'Arcis recently arrived in America to promote the cause of international peace. She is visiting American manufacturers to ask them to sign a "peace roll of industry" which will be organized in 56 countries by the Peace and Disarmament committee comprising 45,000,000 women members throughout the world. Mme. d'Arcis was born in New Orleans, but married a Swiss business man with whom she owns an importing business in Geneva.

Rudy Vallee Is Satisfied With Losing His Wife

Glad That Wife Got Divorce, But Hates To Pay $100 Per Week Alimony

(International News Service)

BOSTON, May 21.—Rudy Valee today expressed satisfaction that his wife, Fay Webb, has won a California divorce decree, but the $100-a-week alimony obvious rankled.

"This alimony business is a racket" he said. "It's unfair. It's like something they might have done in medieval times.

"I believe that where there are children they should be provided for. In a case where a woman has worked hard for years to help her husband to succeed, I believe she is justified in asking alimony. But this business of collecting alimony after a short, unsuccessful marriage should be stopped."

Episcopalians To Gather At Trinity

Ascension Day Choir Festival Tonight At 8 O'clock In Trinity Church

The Rev. Samuel M. Black has invited the people of St. Andrew's, New Castle, and St. Luke's, Ellwood City, to join in services tonight at 8 o'clock in Trinity church. Thus the Ascension Day choir festival service this evening will not only be for the public as a whole, but a gathering of all Episcopalians in Lawrence county in honor of the triumphant completion of Christ's life and work on earth.

The idea of a service of thanksgiving to God and a get-together for the members of all confirmation classes and their families has been very favorably received.

CONCERT DATE AT CHURCH POSTPONED

Announcement is made that the concert scheduled for Sunday at the Emmanuel Baptist church, to be given by the three distinguished local choruses, the mixed, male and ladies' groups, has been postponed until a later date, June 7.

The change was made as a courtesy to those of the First Congregational church, who have had another concert planned for the same date, in their church auditorium. Their plans were made quite sometime ago, it is learned.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police cars travelled 17,542 miles during the first four months of the year, according to statistics compiled at police headquarters. Cruiser number 1 operated 8,722 miles, Cruiser No. 2, 6,248 miles the Detective Special 1,647 miles and the Buick, used as a patrol, 925 miles. The motorcycle travelled 603 miles during January and February. It is now in storage at the police garage.

Word has not yet been received here when the training school for police will resume at Hershey. State police officials are expected to notify Mayor Charles E. McGrath of the date. It was expected a new class would be started June 1. Reports have been reached here that the next class may not start until September 1. The authenticity of this report has not yet been verified.

Should the entire paving program go through here Euclid Avenue will be on the C program, according to attaches of the city engineer's office. Euclid Avenue is the main thoroughfare to the George Washington Junior school. The cost of the B and C programs, according to a statement made recently by a WPA official, will call for property-owners to pay the same price per foot front for paving as on the A project, which is $1.65.

Stone Plays Part In WPA Operations

Three Quarries Have Provided Much Stone For Riprapping And Walls

In the work of improving streets in the city of New Castle, more than 700 tons of stone from the Ray Street quarries have been used according to a report made by WPA Director J. Vale Downie today. The stone represents the work of 105 masons and cutters working in the quarry and on streets where maintaining walls culverts and gutters have been built.

Three quarries are in operation, the Ray street quarry, one at East Brook and one on the west side of New Castle. In all 330 men from direct relief rolls along with supervisory labor are being given employment in the three quarries. All men have been requisitioned through the national employment service.

The Ray Street quarry has been a most productive one. It was used in CWA operations, later in RWD operations and since last December in WPA operations. At the quarry is a modern blacksmith shop and forge where the tools are dressed and in some cases made. A number of steel axles from second hand automobiles have been used for making crow bars and wedges. This has saved equipment cost.

Leonidas Polk, who attained the rank of lieutenant general in the Confederate army, resigned a bishopric to enter military service. He was a graduate of West Point, but studied theology after leaving the academy and became bishop of Louisiana, in 1841.

Fay Webb Vallee Granted Divorce

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 21.—Fay Webb Vallee was granted a divorce Wednesday from Rudy Vallee, crooner, and was awarded $100 a week alimony until she remarries.

The decree was entered after Mrs. Vallee testified Vallee would fly into violent rages and throw drinking glasses at her.

GUEST TOWELS ARE PAPER

Most housewives are sold on using paper toweling in the kitchen as a labor and laundry saver, but they do not know about the pretty guest-size paper towels that they may use in the bathroom. They are sprinkled all over with bright colored posies, and come in orchid, pink, blue and other dainty colors. They cost 50 cents for a box of three dozen.

Roughly speaking, approximately 50 per cent of coal in the vein reaches the consumer.

MORE ROOSEVELT POLICIES FACE COURT TESTS

Reverses Force Further Appeals

Supreme Court Justices To Leave On June 1 For Summer Vacations

NEW RULINGS TO WAIT UNTIL FALL

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service
Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 21.—More Roosevelt administration laws will face the acid test of the supreme court next winter, it appeared today as legal experts continued to study the scope and import of the decision outlawing the Guffey coal law.

Reverses suffered by the administration in many federal courts will force appeals by the government.

Foes of the administration's enactments, encouraged by the stunning blows delivered by the supreme court during the last two years, planned to speed new appeals.

In Summer Recess

With the court planning to adjourn June 1 until October, there appeared no possibility of a ruling on other administration laws.

Because of the decision of the circuit court of the District of Columbia, striking at the resettlement administration, the department of justice may docket an appeal before the court adjourns.

Only one case involving an important administration act now is on the court docket. It is the appeal of the Duke Power company assailing constitutionality of grants made by the PWA to set up publicly-owned power plants in competition with private companies.

Having accepted this case for review on Monday, the court is expected to hear oral argument about Nov. 15.

The court also may grant appeals involving the New York unemployment insurance law, which may furnish a key as to the court's ultimate ruling on constitutionality of the gigantic social security program.

Other Laws Before Court

Other administration laws expected to be thrust before the court next winter include:

1. Public utility holding company act. Government has promised to expedite appeal.
2. Wagner labor relations act. Effort to hasten an appeal before the court adjourned for the summer failed.
3. Revised railroad retirement act.
4. Revised Frazier-Lemke farm moratorium.
5. Cases involving phases of gold devaluation and law abrogating gold clause in bonds.

When the court adjourns June 1 the nine justices will scatter for vacations and study of scores of briefs which accumulate during the recess. No hints of resignations have been received in administration circles. While Justice Brandeis will be 80 years old in November, he appears in good health and vigorous. His friends expect him to remain on the bench.

Although Justice Vandevanter has reached his 77th year his friends also expect him to remain on the court.

Since most of the cases involving Roosevelt administration enactments have been decided by 6 to 3 decisions or more nearly unanimous, the outlook for the administration in next winter's clashes is admittedly not optimistic.

People are naturally supicious. When a statesman resigns because of ill health, they think him a liar unless he dies within a year.

Drives His Auto Into Train Standing On Railroad Track

BUTLER, Pa., May 21. — Sam Abraham of Butler drove his automobile into a standing Baltimore & Ohio freight train at Bonnie Brook today. The car was proceeding from Woodbine to Bonnie Brook and rounding a curve near the latter place, the driver failed to see the train and crashed into the side of it, wedging his car against a freight car.

After removing the passengers from the car, Abraham blew his horn to attract the train crew's attention. The train started to move and the car was dragged 25 feet before the trainmen heard shouts of the driver. Grace Reishman of Kittanning, the only occupant of the car seriously injured, was removed to the Kittanning hospital suffering injuries to the head and face. The car was demolished.

THOUGHT SHE WAS INVALID FOR LIFE

Lady Asserts World's Tonic Helped Her Over A Crisis

"Only a few weeks ago I thought I was sick for the rest of my life, and I did not care much how short that was, except for my children," said Mrs. W. B. Hum of New Castle, Pa., to the World's Tonic interviewer. "I had been getting worse and worse in spite of the treatments I took, until every day my stomach would swell up after eating and I belched a great deal of the time. Sometimes there was much pain over my heart, and when I tried to go upstairs or walk up a hill I had to stop and get my breath frequently. These things came on after the birth of my baby, and I had to bottle feed the child, which has never been very strong. I had pains in my back and legs, and when I would stoop over I got so dizzy that I had to hold to something to get up. My bowels were very obstinate, so that I had to take a strong physic nearly every day. I had dark circles under my eyes and the back of my neck felt like it would break; the bottom of my feet were so hot I had to stick them out from under the covers at night.

"Nothing I took did me any good. One day my husband heard one of the men in the mill talking about how much World's Tonic, the new medicine, had helped his wife, and on his way home he stopped and got a bottle of it. I scolded him for wasting his money, but it was one of the best investments he ever made in his life. That first bottle went right to the trouble. My bowels became regular, and one by one the troubles I had cleared up. Now I am on my fifth bottle, and it is wonderful how much better I am. The pains have left me, I am no longer dizzy, and I relish the food I eat.

"If I had known of World's Tonic six months earlier I would never have suffered so much, and I feel sure my baby would have been stronger and livelier. I certainly recommend World's Tonic to women who suffer as I did." This valuable medicine can be obtained of Eckerd's; Paisley's, or at any other first class drug store. (A62)

Work Starts On Next Year's Supply At Western Penitentiary

HARRISBURG—The Commonwealth will not be late with the 1936 motor vehicle license tags despite the March flood which inundated the factory of the Western State Penitentiary.

Manufacture of approximately 200,000 sets of 1937 commercial vehicle license plates has been started by the Department of Welfare on schedule despite the flood damage.

The commercial group is only a small part of the 2,000,000 sets of licenses to be made for Pennsylvania motor vehicles—approximately the same number as were manufactured for this year. Other groups for trailers, passenger cars, dealers and motorcycles will go into production as soon as the commercial plates are completed. Delivery of the commercial plates will be made to the Department of Revenue during the summer. John D. Pennington, Secretary of Welfare said today.

Next year, Pennsylvania's plates will have a blue background with the license number in golden yellow, which is the reverse of this year's colors.

Pennsylvania's license plates are manufactured by the Prison Labor Division of the Department of Welfare at Western Penitentiary, at Pittsburgh. Production of the plates by prison labor gives long employment to many of the penitentiary's population; aids in the rehabilitation of prisoners and provides a source of income to the workers during their confinement which may be used in enabling them to start life anew upon their release.

Into the manufacture of the plates goes 900 tons of steel; 7000 gallons of background paint; 4000 pounds of numeral ink for letters and 3500 gallons of varnish. For the wrapping 2,000,000 sheets of wax paper will be used; 2,000,000 envelopes for mailing and 40,000 cartons for shipping from Pittsburgh to the Department of Revenue in Harrisburg.

LICENSE REVOKED

HARRISBURG—The hunting license privileges of Paul A. Seiple, Bangor Northampton county have been revoked by the Board of Game Commissioners for five years because of the careless handling of firearms in a hunting accident last fall in which Seiple injured Luther Stametz also of Bangor. The Game Commission exercised its authority under an amendment to the Game Code approved in 1935, whereby persons who cause injury to a human being through negligence on carelessness while using firearms are subject to the loss of their licenses.

Logue Announces New Rules For Scales, Measures

New Tolerance Allowances For Weights And Measures In State

HARRISBURG —Tolerances on the weight of potatoes and onions offered for sale have been approved by Secretary of Internal Affairs Thomas A Logue, following a survey made by the Bureau of Standard Weights and Measures in his department.

The new regulations allow a tolerance of two ounces, either in excess or deficiency, on ten pound bags of potatoes or onions and an additional two ounce allowance is permitted for each additional ten pounds of weight so that on 100 pound bags the legal tolerance would be twenty ounces.

In announcing the regulations, Secretary Logue pointed out that atmospheric conditions frequently vary the weights of potatoes and onions. Sometimes absorption increases weights while in cases of evaporation the weights are decreased.

The Townsmen Make Plans For Summer

Stag Dinner May 27 Closes Indoor Season; Plan Outdoor Events

Complete summer program plans for The Townsmen, young men's civic organization, were announced when the organization met for its weekly meeting at the Y. M. C. A. last night. The president, John P. Boyles, presided.

Future service work of the group was informally considered and the organization boosted to $50 its fund for financing Camp Fred L. Rentz vacations this summer for underprivileged boys of New Castle.

The Townsmen will close its regular indoor meeting season with a stag dinner in New Wilmington on Wednesday evening, May 27. The dinner hour will be 7 o'clock.

SPRING ACHES ARE CONQUERED BY VITAMIN C

(International News Service)

AMHERST, Mass.—Vitamin C is spring fever enemy number 1, according to Carl R. Fellers of the department of horticultural manufactures at Massachusetts State College.

The lumbago, backache and sore joints that come in the spring are caused by a lack of fresh fruits and vegetables in the diet, Fellers said.

It is because of this, that the New England farmers who eat potatoes, carrots, turnips, apples, cereals and meats during the spring months suffer the full vent of the seasonal fever, explained Fellers.

Oranges, tomatoes, fresh apples, strawberries, cranberries, blueberries, asparagus, peas, lettuce, cabbage and rhubarb provide vitamin C for the body, Fellers declared.

BENEFACTOR'S WILL HAS 133 BEQUESTS

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O.—Listing more than 200 bequests, the will of the late Charles L. Richman, one of three brothers who became widely known for their Richman Brothers Co., clothing manufacturers, disposes of an estate estimated to be worth more than $1,500,000.

The will lists 133 bequests to individuals, including relatives, friends and business associates, and the remainder to charitable institutions, such as schools, hospitals, orphanages and others regardless of race, creed or color.

Richman was famous as a benefactor of all kinds of charities, and gave generously to Jewish, Catholic, Protestant and Negro institutions before his death.

Three Trains Carry Big Circus

DREAMING OF CLOWNS AND CLOWNS

Three special trains of double length railroad cars are required to transport the people, animals and equipment of the big new circus which Cole Bros.-Clyde Beatty are to bring to this city on May 29. The amount of motive power that would be necessary to haul such a quota makes the use of the average length carrier wholly impracticable. To solve the problem the famous showmen have special "double length" cars built for their use and so manage to load their mammoth organization. An immense street parade will be seen on the downtown streets at 11 a. m. Doors to the famous Clyde Beatty menagerie will open at 1 and 7 p. m. The big show will start promptly at 2 and 8 p. m.

Letter Is Received From Rev. D. C. Henry

Letter Written April 21, Before Italian Occupation Of Addis Ababa

Although Mrs. Duncan Henry, who resides at the missionary home in New Wilmington, received a letter yesterday from her husband, a missionary in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, it was written on April 21, before the Italian occupation of the capital, and contained little news of the war other than the fact that he would go, along with the personel of the George Memorial hospital, to the British legation in case of riots or trouble.

That Rev. Henry, Rev. C. W. Duff, of near Mt. Jackson, and other missionaries at the Ethiopian capital passed safely through the crucial period of mob violence, was assured, however, two weeks ago when cables to that effect were received from the foreign board through the state department. The property damage was reported to have been slight.

TWO APPLICATIONS FOR DIVORCE FILED

Cora P. McAnaney has filed an application at the prothonotary's office for divorce from her husband, Walter J. McAnaney on the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment. The couple were married in Youngstown in February, 1918, and have passed most of their married life in this city.

Jennie Martucci has filed an application for divorce from her husband, Carmen Martucci on the grounds of desertion. They were married in December, 1920. Both parties are now living on Lutton street.

It may not prove anything, but the only creatures that can eat anything and survive anywhere are rats and men.

Ukrainian Priest Arrives In City

The Very Rev. Fr. Maxim Marushzhuk has arrived in New Castle to visit the Ukrainian parish to settle up the affairs of the parish in connection with the Ukrainian diocese. WORTH IT!

Man Had Brick in His Stomach for 10 Years

One man here in New Castle stated that for 10 years he felt as if he had a brick in his stomach. This feeling was due to the lump of undigested food he always had inside of him. He was weak, worn out, headachy, swollen with gas. Recently he started taking the new, double-acting stomach alkalizer, called WHITE SWALLOW—the scientific formula of FOUR (4) different remedies for the relief of common stomach distress. This man said the feeling like a brick in his stomach disappeared the first day. He is free of headaches now, never bloats up with gas and the worn-out feeling is gone.

Acts at Once

WHITE SWALLOW neutralizes acids in the stomach, expels gas, relieves pain, bloat, swelling and headaches. Relief comes immediately. Not habit-forming like soda, and pleasant to take. Settles the stomach at once.

Costs So Little

Best of all, WHITE SWALLOW costs less than 1c a dose. So it would be unfair to yourself to suffer. We want the public to know about this new, scientific remedy because it has helped just about everyone who has taken it.

So we suggest—

Don't try to get well in a day...this is asking too much of Nature. Remember, she has certain natural processes that just cannot be hurried.

Therefore, if you are pale, tired, lack a keen appetite, have lost weight and feel rundown...a frequent sign that your blood-cells are weak, with a tendency towards anemia—then do try in the simple, easy way so many millions approve—by starting a course of S.S.S. Blood Tonic. © S.S.S. Co.

Librarian Reports Acts Of Convention

Miss Sterling, Delegate To Richmond Sessions, Tells Steps Taken

Nearly 3000 librarians, library trustees and other delegates were in attendance at the 58th annual conference of the American Library Association at Richmond, Va., May 11-16, it was reported by Alice M. Sterling upon her recent return. Other librarians attending the conference from this vicinity were Mrs. Catherine Charles, librarian of Ellwood City; Miriam Grosch, Geneva College librarian, Beaver Falls; Mildred Allman, Westminster college librarian, New Wilmington; Charlotte Evans and Mrs. Mabel Hudson of the staff of Erie Public library; Ralph Munn, director of Carnegie library of Pittsburgh; and Frances Kelly, director Carnegie Library School, Pittsburgh.

Approval was voted, Miss Sterling said, by the association's council of plans proposed by a committee on federal aid, thus paving the way for action urged by the committee which included authorizing the executive board to proceed with a formal request for federal aid to libraries on a permanent basis.

Th council also voted to establish a board of the resources of American libraries to study present library resources and to carry out schemes of cooperation in order better to utilize existing resources.

Four Tasks For Librarians

Louis Round Wilson, retiring president of the association, in his presidential address, outlined four major tasks which confront American librarians, Miss Sterling said. These are (1) to provide library service for 45,000,000 people now without it; (2) to improve the service to some 40,000,000 people who live in areas where library facilities are inadequate; (3) to make the library a significant adult educational force in the life of the nation and (4) to increase the usefulness of the great scholarly libraries of America for the purposes of scholarship and research.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt, in a message to the Friends of the Library luncheon—a feature of Citizens' Day—called the public library the "world's largest educational system."

The John Newbery medal for the most distinguished children's book of the previous year was awarded to Carol Ryric Brink for "Caddie Woodlawn," Miss Sterling reported, and the suggestion of a new annual Latin American scholarship was approved to encourage the advancement of libraries and librarianship in Latin American countries. This book is in the New Castle Public library.

The newly elected officers of the association for the coming year, as reported by Miss Sterling are: president, Malcolm Glenn Wyer, librarian of the Denver Public library; first vice-president, Amy Winslow, Enoch Pratt Free library, Baltimore; second vice-president, Garleton B. Joeckel, Graduate Library school, University of Chicago; and treasurer, Matthew S. Dudgeon, Milwaukee Public library.

Harriet C. Long, of the Oregon State library and Forrest B. Spaulding, of the Des Moines, Iowa, Public Library, are the new members of the executive board.

Hope To Capture Anti-New Dealers

Republicans See Merit In Plan Of Hoover To Appeal To Democrats

MANY PEOPLE CHANGE PARTIES

Central Press
Washington Bureau.
1900 S street

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Many Republicans think there is a deal of merit in ex-President Hoover's contention that the G. O. P. should make out-and-out overtures to anti-New Deal Democrats.

Their theory is that there are numerous old-fashioned Jeffersonians who will, indeed, sulk at home on election day, but will not actually vote Republicanly unless they are offered some inducement to do so. To be sure, they will have a value to the G. O. P. as mere Democratic stay-at-homes, but only a fraction of the value they will have if they can be persuaded to become Republican voters.

However, an element of Republican leadership is rather fearful of too much of a Democratic dilution of their party, on the ground that it probably will be at the sacrifice of principles which, in the past, it has stood for.

* * *

PARTIES TRADE SIDES

If these latter folk did not realize it, to a great extent the two major parties have flopped sides already.

Once the Democrats were for states' rights and a minimum of government. The Republicans favored plenty of government, in the interest of a privileged class, perhaps, but they never subscribed to the Jeffersonian doctrine that the less there is of it the better. And they subordinated the states to their preference for a large measure of control of the whole country from Washington.

Now the Democrats are engaged in regulating nearly everything and the Republicans are howling their heads off about it. And there never was so much governmental centralization before in American history. The Republicans yell bitterly that it almost amounts to a dictatorship.

* * *

TARIFF STILL IS POINT

In fact, if it were not for the tariff issue the two parties might be said practically to have swapped positions.

The Democrats, traditionally for a certain amount of moderation in import taxation, are scaling protection down more or less by means of the reciprocal trade agreements into which the administration is entering with foreign nations. And the Republicans continue to stand pat for very high customs imposts.

Yet even on this question the alignment no longer is clean-cut.

John J. Raskob, former chairman of the Democratic national committee, for example, is a severe critic of Secretary of State Hull's reciprocal agreements, as calculated to undermine the protective system, which he believes in.

On the opposite hand, Henry L. Stimson, secretary of state in the Hoover administration, is one among several outstanding Republicans who praise the reciprocal bargains.

DISINTEGRATION!

Briefly, both parties have gone to pieces. To say that they have split would be to express it too mildly. They simply have disintegrated. But they don't know it yet.

Unaware that there has ceased to be any such thing as what formerly was known as a Democrat or a Republican, partisanship is re-aligning itself.

But it hasn't accomplished it yet; hence all the confusion.

Four years from now probably the re-shuffle will have been pretty well completed. The voters will understand who's who and which is which, but they don't at present and neither do many of their leaders.

* * *

NEW GROUPINGS

Presumably the re-grouping will be into liberal and conservative parties.

It was a re-grouping which the late Senator Robert M. La Follette attempted to effect in 1924, but the time wasn't ripe for it.

This time a re-division inevitably must follow.

It's in process now.

The old names may stick, but they will have a new significance. It is possible that it will become apparent at the coming conventions. It will be amply apparent by 1940, anyway.

Senator George W. Norris, a Republican, is a Democrat already. Al Smith, a Democrat, is a Republican.

There are plenty more such cases.

AIDS FRANTIC FEMALES

A neat little bag with a patented slide fastener and rubber-lined has been put on the market to aid the usual frantic search for lipstick, compact, powder puff, etc., in milady's purse. It's called a cosmetic bag, and is small enough so that you can have two, if you wish, in your bag, to keep all the loose articles together where you can find them without a frantic search. They also are very inexpensive, ranging in price from 10 cents to 25.

CUT DRIVING COSTS TO THE BONE—WITH THE PRODUCTS WHICH GAVE SUCH SENSATIONAL RESULTS IN THE GREATEST ROAD TEST IN HISTORY

"ALL RIGHT. WHERE DO I COME IN?"

PERHAPS you've asked yourself: "Can I drive my car 100,000 miles, and get the same results?" The answer is that the Toms River Road Test was scientific — and, being scientific, can be duplicated.

Modern automobiles are precision machines which give splendid results when kept at top efficiency. If you start a new car on Atlantic Products — and then obey the traffic laws as to speed and the instructions of your car's manufacturer as to maintenance — you will get Toms River results. Naturally, you cannot expect even Atlantic Products to restore metal that is already worn; but you will find that they all but stop future deterioration.

It is very important to use Atlantic White Flash regularly — refill with fresh Atlantic Motor Oil every 1000 miles — and get Atlantic Lubrication every 1000 miles. The very least you can expect is far better performance and cheaper transportation than you have ever had before.

On Court House Hill

An appeal from the decision of Alderman Mantz has been filed at the prothonotary's office in the case of the New Castle Company against Morris Newmark in which judgment in favor of the plaintiff was rendered for $42. Newmark claims that he does not owe the money.

Joseph Frank, agent for the Frank properties, has issued an amicable action in ejectment against Mary Calang, Grace Mancini, Felix Mancini and Ned Calang to secure possession of a property in Shenango township.

County Controller Frank W. Hill and Welfare officer, Edwin Reed, have returned from Torrance hospital, where they were to investigate the rates being paid for sixteen inmates from Lawrence county who were admitted as criminally insane and for whom the county is paying $4.85 per week each. It is claimed that the most of these patients have exhibited no criminal tendencies, and that they should be taken off the criminally insane lists and placed on the indigent list, where the expenses of keeping them would be $3 per week each. When patients are committed as criminally insane there is no chance of getting anything from their estates, provided they have any, but when they are committed as indigent insane the costs can be collected if they have property. It is said that some of those who are now in Torrance are able to pay. The county commissioners are having Attorney William McElwee look up the procedure that would be necessary to change patients from the criminally insane list to the indigent list.

In connection with the penalties and interest on delinquent taxes, County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland, says that there is a penalty of one half of one per cent and interest of one half of one per cent a month on school taxes that are filed, making 12 per cent a year. On the county and poor taxes there is a charge of one half of one per cent or six per cent per year, and in the townships and boroughs the charge is the same, one half of one per cent or six per cent per year. It is these penalties and interest that the bill now before the legislature would eliminate. Pending the passage of the bill, which seems assured, Treasurer Hartland will accept partial payments on both delinquent and current taxes. This does not mean that he is now eliminating the interest and penalties in full, but that they will not be to pay if the pending bill is passed.

Court room No. 1, which is now being re-decorated, will present a very fine appearance when completed, as will also the main jury room in in the northeast corner of the building, from which the paper has been removed and which is to be re-papered. The fact of the matter is that there are very few court rooms in the state any larger or better than court room No. 1, not even in new buildings. Court room No. 2 is almost as large and in very good shape. With a little work done in the way of papering, painting and remodeling the present court house will accommodate the needs of the county for many years to come. There are some of the offices that are a little crowded, but if the commissioners decide to partition off a room in the main corridor for the county controller's office, it will help wonderfully in providing more room. It has been figured out that this room could be made without changing the front stairway and at very little expense. If more room is needed for obsolete records there is plenty of space in the basement to fit up a room that would meet all the requirements.

Registrar of Graves, Thomas Edmunds, has about completed visiting the different cemeteries of the county preparatory to Memorial Day exercises. Markers are being placed on all soldiers graves, where this has not already been done.

V. F. W. To Have Sunday Service

The Sunday morning service at 11 o'clock in the First Congregational church will be a memorial service conducted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, a large delegation of whom plan to attend.

After the evening service Mrs. Bronwen James and a party from Aliquippa will give a sacred concert in the church.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., May 21.—Jimmie Colombo, who is making a sensational career on the Pacific coast as a boxer, today has a baby brother.

The baby is the twentieth child of Mr. and Mrs. Baptiste Colombo of Norwood, near here, and was born Monday night. There are 11 sons and nine daughters in the family, one of whom is Louis Colombo, former champion boxer in the United States Marines.

HOME-MADE CEMENT

Strong Opposition To Granting Sole Power To President

Senators Would Place Food Control Projects In Charge Of Army Engineers

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Strong opposition to giving President Roosevelt sole power to grant priority in construction of flood control projects bobbed up in the senate Wednesday afternoon during debate on the $347,000,000 Wilson-Copeland flood control act.

Led by Senator Vandenberg (R) of Michigan, a bi-partisan bloc lined up behind an amendment introduced by Senator Clark (D) of Missouri, to strip from the president the authority to designate construction of projects, and place the authorization powers under the board of army engineers.

Vandenberg charged the committee amendment to give the president priority power would place flood control back in politics.

"The committee amendment," he said, "is a direct step back to the pork barrel.

Clark said his amendment would insure "the bill against the ravages of petty politicians and give this country a flood policy that would be beneficial to those it is intended to benefit."

Croton Remains Undefeated In Softball Loop

Croton Progressives Defeat Knights Of St. Vitus 5 To 3. Box Factory Wins

RADIATORS TRIP NOBILS TEAM

Croton Progressives under Manager Ed Malley have yet to meet defeat in the City Softball league and are leading the league by a fine margin today. Last night the Crotons up on the Castle Beach field took a 5 to 3 decision from the Knights of St. Vitus.

Johnny Roman was on the knoll for the Progressives and held the heavy hitting Knights under Manager Buddy Marino to five hits. The Crotons had eight hits off of Tommie Maielle. It was in the seventh inning that Croton came to life to win the game with a three run attack. The hitting stars of the game were Phil Perrotta, and T. Perrotta for Croton, and Colella and Augustine for the Knights.

Score by innings:

Knights 110 000 010	3	5	3
Croton 002 000 30x	5	8	4

Batteries: Croton, Roman and Leonelli. Knights, Maielle and Bullano. Umpires: J. Santangelo and Van Fossan.

BOX FACTORY WINS

The Box Factory team under John Fair defeated the Bonnetts last night at Spencer field 12 to 10 in a free-swinging affair in which both teams had 13 bingles. Tom Fair and DeCaprio featured the game with home run drives. Both teams played fine ball in the field. It was a well earned victory for the Box Factory team.

Score by innings:

	R.	H	E.
Bonnetts 020 134 00	10	13	0
Box Factory ..210 033 3x	12	13	0

Batteries: Bonnetts, P. Dweyer and Texie Richards. Box Factory, Bartlett, Ritchie and P. Testa.

Make Letter Awards To Westminster Co-eds

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., May 21—Letter awards were made to six Westminster women at the annual W. A. A. honors banquet held Tuesday evening and presided over by Lucile Nevin, Monongahela, retiring senior president.

Presentation awards of blue W's, indicating the massing of 1,000 points in women's sports, was made to Elizabeth Charles, Aliquippa; Jane Holland, Bellevue; Elizabeth Cone, Crafton; Lucile Nevin, Monongahelia; Harriet Jackson, Sewickley, and Comfort Spelman Kent, O.

MISS MORROW

Mary Ellen Morrow, Oil City senior, received the W. A. A. blanket from Miss Nandeen Love, director of women's physical education, for securing the largest number of activity points during the year. Miss Morrow has been a member of the Orchestra, Girls' glee club, A Capella choir and Chapel choir. She is also affiliated with the Mermaid club; Science club; Psi Nu, women's journalistic organization, and Beta Phi Alpha.

Leadership, character, club work, ability and scholastic grades are considered in making the high-point W. A. A. award for the year.

Ruth Conner, New Castle freshman, was initiated at the banquet. Installation of officers for 1936-37 included Mary Jane Metzler, New Castle, president; Elizabeth Charles, Aliquippa, vice president; Sarah Hamilton, Smith's Ferry, secretary and Marie Nevin, Monongahela, treasurer. June Teachout, Ashtabula, O., was named hike supervisor.

Toasts were delivered by Mary Boyd, Wilkinsburg; Wilanna Lorimer, West Alexander; Marjorie McGeorge, New Castle and Virginia Rumbaugh, Saxonburg, for the student body. Faculty responses came from Dean Mary E. Turner, Miss Nandeen Love, Dean Alex C. Burr, and President and Mrs. Galbreath.

Gifts were presented to Miss Love from the W. A. A. organization with Dorothy Young, New Castle, as spokesman; and from the seniors to the club by Comfort Spelman, Kent, O.

Mrs. Galbreath delivered the main talk of the evening on "Young People in Europe as I Saw Them."

One hundred points are necessary for membership in W. A. A. and one hundred points are added for each year a girl excels in a sport. Regular attendance during the year entitles a girl to only 50 points. Chairmanship in any one of the eight possible sports also adds a hundred points to the 1,000 that entitles a girl to wear the blue W.

Firemen Trip Colonials 2-0

"Peck" Huston Hurls Two-Hitter For Sixth Warders

Sixth Ward Firemen handed the Colonial A. C. a 2-0 defeat last night at the Colonial field. Behind the steady pitching of "Peck" Huston, the Firemen had no trouble in winning their third game of the year. Huston throughout the game had the Colonials at his mercy, limiting the North Hill boys to a pair of scratch singles and fanning four men. Not a one of the Colonial players were able to reach third base.

For the Colonials, Swisher was selected to do mound duty and pitched a fine game, limiting the heavy hitting Firemen to six hits, and receiving credit for three strike-outs.

The Firemen bunched four hits in the seventh inning for a total of two runs which proved the margin of victory.

The hitting stars of the game for the Firemen were the two Maher brothers, Jerry getting credit for a scorching triple and Tommy received credit for a double. For the Colonials, Jess McCann and Sargeant were the only ones able to touch the offerings of Huston.

For the Firemen, the fielding of Del Jackson and Clyde Jackson proved outstanding, while Morgan looked the best for the Colonials. The summary:

Firemen—	R.	H.	E.

"If I feel next winter that I am in shape to play my best once more I'll return to the Dodgers or to any club that wants me as a player," said Freddie Lindstrom who quit the Dodgers yesterday. Freddie claims he left the outfit because he was unable to give value for money received. He said he had been affected by injuries for four years. He said he has sat on the bench, unable to play and the thought of not being able to earn his salary depressed him.

The defeat of the topseeded British pair, Katherine Stammers and H. W. Austin, in the second round of mixed doubles provided the high spot of play in the French hard court tennis championships at Paris. They were downed by Simone Goron-Itchenko and Pierre Pelizza, 7-5, 6-2.

Giants And Cards Hit Ball Hard In Exciting Game, Pirates Top Phils

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 21.—The law of averages has teamed up with the roaring, rollicking ruffians from St. Louis, and the New York Giants today had that combination to beat to retain the National league lead.

The Giants have won nine straight games to take over the top of the standings by the margin of a half game. They took their first of the season from the Cards in yesterday's two-game series opener at the Polo grounds, after suffering two straight earlier defeats against them. The Giants were out-hit, and the Cards went down fighting despite the score of 10 to 7.

Martin Hits Homer

As a parting snarl in behalf of his mates, Pepper Martin got ahold of one of Hal Schumacher's pitches in the ninth inning for a home run with two aboard.

Terry Moore had smacked one earlier in the game for the Cards, and Ott got one for the Giants as part of a five-hit, four-run barrage in the fifth that drove Tarzan Parmelee, the Giant castoff who recently beat Carl Hubbell in 17 innings, to the showers. Parmelee was charged with the defeat, which was accomplished by 12 Giant hits as against 14. But the Giants hit when they counted, as, for example, Pitcher Schumacher's double that drove in three runs.

The Red Sox missed their grand opportunity to gain in the American League by losing to the Browns, 12 to 8, while the Yankees were being knocked off, 4 to 3, by Schoolboy Rowe, Marvin Owen and the rest of the Tigers.

Rowe Fans Ten

Rowe fanned 10 Yankees and Owen hit a 10th inning homer to score the win, Joe Di Maggio connected for a circuit for the Yanks. Each side made six hits and Charlie (The Red) Ruffing was the loser.

The Red Sox used Wesley Ferrell, Wilson, Cascarella, Walberg, Welch and Ostermueller trying to prevent the Browns from winning their third game in a row and seventh of the season, and Jimmy Foxx hit his ninth home run, but the Browns made nine hits good for 12 runs.

In other American league games Sugar Cain pitched the White Sox to a seven-hit, 4 to 0 shutout over the Athletics and the Senators beat the Indians, 7 to 6, Jimmy Deshong scoring the latter victory.

Reds Win Game

Back in the National League, the Cincinnati Reds used two full teams of 18 men to overcome the Bees, 10 to 8. The Reds pounded out 15 hits against 11.

The Dodgers scored six runs in the first inning and Van Lingle Mungo got credit for a 11 to 2 victory over the Cubs, while big Jim Weaver of the Pirates whipped the Phils, 9 to 3, and shoved them into the cellar.

Golfing Events On Local Links

J. G. Leslie and George Smith were winners in the Lions Club Blind Bogey event at the Sylvan Heights course last evening, their net score of 42 being the number drawn. Ten men were out for play during the evening and Dr. J. L. Reed was medalist with a 46. Due to the chilly atmosphere, most of the players were under wraps and their scores were not so high.

The results of play were as follows:

	G.	H.	N.
J. G. Leslie	55	13	42
George Smith	57	15	42
Don Wilson	50	9	41
Dr. B. M. Rodgers	51	12	39

Capt. V. Arthur Smith, manager and Pro at Sylvan Heights announced today that Monday is the last day for entering the annual Spring handicap tournament at Sylvan Heights.

Players will be paired immediately after the entries are all in and play will be started as soon as possible so that the event can be completed before the summer has waned.

Fifty entries have been received today and many more are expected to qualify over the week end, making them eligible for competition in the event.

BELL PHONES WIN

The Bell Phones under Ralph Davis and Jerry McGovern took the measure of the New Castle Dry golfing team last night in a postponed Business Men's league match at Castle Hills course. The result was 3½ to 2½. Ralph Davis was medalist for the match with 42. McGovern 47-0, Boyd, 59-0, C. Snyder, 59-1.

The results—Bell Phones: Davis 42-1, Clark 43-½, McCoy, 53-1, by default. New Castle Dry—F. Perry 49-1, Waldo 58-1, H. Snyder 59-0, Kerr 46-0, Kildoo 44-½.

Snow is more beneficial to unfrozen ground than rain, scientists have pointed out. This is because snow melts gradually and is more likely to be absorbed than rain is. Snow also does not cause soil erosion while rain frequently does.

Colored Boys To Utilize Carnegie Field For Play

Walter Smith, athletic supervisor, announced today the opening of a playground for the colored boys of New Castle on the Mill street side of the Carnegie field. The playground will be open from 4 until 8 o'clock tonight.

The playground will be supervised and will be open every day at the same hours four to eight. There will be softball teams, track teams, horseshoe pitching, and slides and volleyball.

Coach Amos To Head Scout Camp

Will Be In Charge Of Boy Scout Camp For Grove City On Slippery Rock

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, May 21.—William E. Amos, football coach at Grove City College, has accepted the executive chairmanship of Boy Scout activities here, it is announced by the local committee. He will co-ordinate and unify the work in the six local troops, which have been functioning for several years without a general head.

Mr. Amos will again act as director of the summer Boy Scout outing at Camp Fithian, on the Slippery Rock creek. He was in charge of a successful camp last year, and has already launched plans for the camp period this year, to be held the first two weeks in August. He is now selecting his staff.

Many improvements are to be made at Camp Fithian, including shower baths, and a fifth cabin, to be built by the local Elks lodge.

The Croton M. E. church softball team will play the Radiators tonight at the Radiator field in an exhibition game. The game will start at 6:15 o'clock. The Croton boys are asked to report not later than 6 o'clock at Mosers to make the trip to the Radiator field.

The fast Sixth Ward Firemen have carded the Lawrence Indies for a twilight engagement tonight at the Lee avenue field at 6:00 p. m. Manager Zeigler of the Firemen will probably use Witherow or Alexander on the hill against the South Siders. For the Indies, Majocka will do the twirling.

Manager Henry Engs, of the Tolan A. C., asks that all of the boys on the team last year and any others who wish tryouts to be at the Carnegie field for practice session tonight. An important game has been arranged for Friday night. The Tolans will play any team in the city and for games call 469-R and ask for Henry Engs.

Eight Amateurs Will Make Trip

Select Eight Amateur Boxers To Make Trip To Germany For Games

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 21—Eight youths, survivors of months of tournament boxing in which more than 80,000 amateurs participated, were ready for a long rest today before starting training for their bouts in the Olympic games in Berlin.

The eight won national championships here last night, as well as the right to fight against the 54 nations which will comprise the Olympic competition at Berlin.

A throng of 19,152 paid $33,124 to witness the finals of the national amateur tournament.

The results of the championships bouts:

112 pounds—Louis Laurie, Cleveland, beat Jimmy Urso, Detroit.

118 pounds—Jackie Wilson, Cleveland, beat Johnny Brown, Chicago.

126 pounds—Ted Kara, Cleveland, beat Joey Church, Batavia, N. Y.

135 pounds—Andy Scrivani, Chicago, beat Thomas Tedesco, Niagara Falls, N. Y.

147 pounds—Howell King, Detroit, beat Chester Rutecki, Chicago.

160-pounds—Jimmy Clark, Jamestown, N. Y., beat Ord Fink, Syracuse University.

175 pounds—Carl Vinciquerra, Creighton University, beat William Townsend, U. S. Army, Hawaii.

Heavyweight—Arthur Oliver, Chicago, beat Willis Johnson, Detroit.

Ryantown Trims Castlewood 17-0

Fans Would Like To See Ryantown And Sixth Ward Firemen Tangle

The Ryantown baseball team with "Lefty" O'Hara on the Knoll had the Castlewoods helpless last night before an avalanche of hits for a 17 to 0 victory. The game was called after four and one-half innings on account of darkness.

Wilson relieved O'Hara after the New Jersey boy had allowed just one little hit in the four innings he toiled. The Ryantown boys had nine hits off of St. Johns.

Friday night the Ryantown team will play a return engagement with the Polish National Alliance team at Glasser Field at 6 o'clock it was announced by Business Manager Heasley today. An effort is to be made shortly to arrange a Ryantown-Sixth Ward Firemen series.

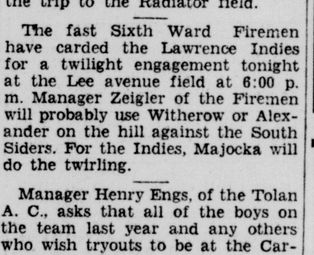
Score by innings:

		R	H	E
Castlewood	000	00—	0	2 7
Ryantown	098	0x—17	9	0

Batteries— Ryantown: O'Hara, Wilson and Layton. Castlewood—St. Johns and Houk.

Track Team At Butler Today

Coach Bill Klee took his New Castle High track and field team to Butler this afternoon for a meet with Regis Heinzer's Butler High runners, jumpers and throwers. About 20 red and black clad speedsters and weight men made the trip.



"WE'LL PUT your application on file, Miss Hogan!" (You never can tell when the boss will take me seriously the next time I "quit".)

Three Class B Games Tonight

Gersons, S. S. Merchants And Shenangoes Are League Leaders

There will be three softball games in the Class B league tonight. The games will start at 5:30 o'clock.

The Gersons under Coach Dave Riley and Manager Joe Wright will go to Albert street field to battle the First U. P. church team. The Shenangoes will be at the Carnegie field to do battle with the Keystone A. C. Juniors.

South Side Merchants will go to Lehigh field to meet the East Side Merchants in what should be a classy battle.

Following is the standing of the league for the first games of the year:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Gersons	1	0	1.000
S. S. Merchants	1	0	1.000
Shenangos	1	0	1.000
First U. P.	0	1	.000
Keystone Jrs.	0	1	.000
E. S. Merchants	0	1	.000

Davis High In Nonpariel Shoot

Rod Davis was high man in the semi-weekly shoot of the Nonpariel Club with a 191 string, while Karl Rohrer was second with 190, and with Barber and Curtis third with 184's.

There will be a practice shoot tonight at the range at 7:30 o'clock.

The results of the shoot: Rod Davis 191, Karl Rohrer 190, Curtis 184, Barber 184, Boyd 183, Shaw 182, McBride 178, McKibben 178, Grodecour 177, Jinks 169, Adams 162, Dess 162.

Church Golfers Play Tonight

The New Castle Church golfers will play their third matches of the year tonight at the Sylvan Heights course at 5:30 o'clock.

The First Christians will battle the First Baptist team captained by Harley Keis. The First M. E. boys will play the St. Marys-St. Josephs team while the Trinity team will take on the league leading First Presbyterian.

Highland U. P. engages the Mahoning churches. East Side churches will play the First U. P. team.

NO MODERN GADGETS

A few days after a farmer had placed his two children in a school a book agent called on him and said "Now that your children go to school you ought to buy them an encyclopedia."

"Buy them an encyclopedia? Hanged if I do" was his reply. "Let them walk like I did."

City Softball Games Friday

Too Many Postponed Games Are Piling Up In City Softball League

There will be three regularly scheduled City Softball league games Friday night, it was announced today. The games will start at 5:45 o'clock.

The league leading Croton Progressives will tangle with the Radiators at the Castle Beach Field. The umpires will be Johnnie Santangelo and F. Isabella. This game will attract quite a lot of attention. The Crotons won the first game of the year at the Rad field.

Coach Andy "Coots" Venditto will take his Bonnetts to B. & O. field to meet the Knights of St. Vitus, with Bill Ross and Nick Tuscano working the game. The Box Factory team will go to Old Castle Field to tangle with the Nobils under "Frub" Crisci. The umpires will be Frank Biondi and Mike DiThomas.

BARGAIN RATE

A farmer arrived very late at a county doctor's house and requested him to come instantly to a distant farm. The doctor hitched up and drove furiously.

Upon arrival the farmer inquired, "What fee?"

"Three dollars," replied the doctor, surprised. The country man paid.

"There ye are doc; that durned liveryman wanted five."

ORDINANCE NO. 59

An Ordinance of the Borough of Bessemer, in Lawrence County, Pennsylvania, relating to taxes for the year 1936, including the levy and collection of borough, library and sinking fund taxes, and making an appropriation for library purposes for the year 1936.

Section 1.

Be it ordained and enacted by the Burgess and Borough Council of the Borough of Bessemer aforesaid, and it hereby is ordained and enacted by the authority of the same: that there be levied and collected for the year 1936 on all property, offices, professions and persons made taxable by the laws of this Commonwealth for county rates and levies, which is the sum of $1,421,010.00, a tax for general Borough purposes of 7.1 tenths of one cent on the dollar of the valuation aforesaid, and also a tax for library purposes of one-half of one mill on the dollar of the same valuation.

Section 2.

That there also be levied and collected for the year 1936 on same valuation a tax of 3.4 mills on the dollar for sinking fund purposes to provide a sinking fund for the water supply system bonds Series of 1935.

Section 3.

The Borough Secretary hereby is directed to prepare a tax book containing the names of all taxables within said Borough as shown by the list furnished by the County Commissioners of said County, the total valuation with which each taxable is assessed, and a statement showing separately the amounts of the three taxes above mentioned.

Section 4.

The net amount of money to be collected under the tax for library purposes as above set forth hereby is appropriated to establish and maintain a free, public, non-sectarian library for the use of all the residents of said Borough.

Section 5.

Forthwithafter said tax book is prepared, the Borough Secretary shall prepare and deliver to the Burgess a duplicate thereof, to which the Burgess shall add his warrant for collection and deliver same to the tax collector for collection.

Section 6.

The collector's notice to the taxables shall be dated June 15th, 1936, and shall contain the information that all taxes for the year 1936, paid on or before August 14th, 1936, shall be entitled to a rebate of five percentum, and all taxes for the year 1936, not paid on or before October 15th 1936, shall be deemed delinquent and payable with interest at one-half of one percentum per month, or a fractional part thereof, computed from said October 15th, 1936.

Section 7.

The compensation of the tax collector hereby is fixed at two percentum on all taxes paid on or before October 15th, 1936 and at five percentum on all taxes paid after that date and by him collected.

Be it ordained and enacted in Council this 19th day of May, A. D. 1936.

Attest:
Chas. B. Nord,
Borough Secretary.
Roy C. Wallis,

Examined and approved by me this 19th day of May, A. D. 1936.
C. D. Montgomery,
Burgess.

Profit Taking Halts Market

Gains In General List Are Pared Down To Minimum Today

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, May 21.—Light profit-taking made its appearance in the stock market today after yesterday's recovery had been extended in earlier trading, with gains in the general list being pared to a minimum.

Utilities had first hour gains running to more than a point cut in half. A fairly firm tone, however, was retained by American Water Works, Electric Power & Light issues, North American and Consolidated Edison.

All gains in the motor section were wiped out, with General Motors and Chrysler dropping back to their previous closings. Steels were only slightly improved, Bethlehem and U. S. Steel showing minimum fractional gains.

Although Atchison spurted about a point in the rails, some irregularity was apparent. Great Northern and Southern Pacific dipped under last night's final quotations, While N. Y. Central and Baltimore & Ohio ruled slightly higher.

Coppers, oils and aviations were quiet and little changed. Building stocks were buoyant under the lead of Johns-Mansville and U. S. Gypsum, each of which climbed two points.

Bonds maintained an irregular front. Grains recovered early losses. Cotton was steady.

Class Dinner Is Unique Event At St. Agatha Church

Graduating Class Of 167 Honored At Semi-Annual Affair Last Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—All honors for originality and unique plans undoubtally belongs to the graduating class of May 1936 judging from the events at their class dinner and program Wednesday evening in the St. Agatha Catholic church. Over 200 were present on the occasion.

The high school faculty, school officials ,and the board of education with their wives were special guests and expressed their admiration for the clever arrangements. The dining room of the church was arranged as a ship at sea decorated in the class colors, blue and gold. It had everything from the helm to the portholes, fish for place cards and even pills for sea-sickness. Oil lamps were used instead of lights and candles. A ship's model stood on the speakers table. Credit for this unique plan belongs to John Halota and his committee. The class numbers 167.

President Robert Fraschetti presided as toastmaster of the evening and kept things going at a merry pace. He displayed unusual ability in this role. The program opened with a toast to the senior girls by James Morgan to which Maxine Harrison responded. Betty Stewart gave the toast to the faculty and board of education to which Arthur Webster responded. Music was provided by an orchestra after which a period of fun prevailed when the class donors took charge. They were Charles DeVincent, George Hall, Blanche Means and Peggy Knight.

Lilyville Group Has Special Guests

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—When members of the Women's Missionary society of the St. Mark's Lutheran church of Lilyville gathered yesterday at the home of Mrs. Henry Hall of Lilyville for the May meeting they had Mrs. Adda Foreman, Mrs. Ralph Newton, Mrs. Myrtle Boots and Mrs. Clifford Gibbons, as special guests.

A delectable tureen dinner was served at noon by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Newton and Mrs. Millie Daufen.

The devotional and business periods were conducted by the president, Mrs. Edward McKenna. Plans were made to aid the church in purchasing new song books.

Mrs. Harry Gabler invited the group to meet at her home on the Ellwood-Wampum road for the next meeting on Wednesday, June 17.

Parker Rites Held Wednesday

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—On Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 from the late home in Bridge street funeral services were held for John C. Parker, whose death occurred at his home on Monday morning following a lingering illness of several months' duration. The services were conducted by Rev. Thomas Berger, pastor of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church, and were attended by many bereaved relatives and friends.

Interment was made in the Clinton cemtery on the Wampu-Beaver Falls road with Reid Newton, Edward Newton, Roy Newton, Harry Stewart and Mr. Brophy as pallbearers.

Party Honors Ellport Sisters

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—In honor of the eighth birthday anniversary of Shirley McMunn and the sixth birthday anniversary of Donna McMunn, their mother, Mrs. Ralph McMunn entertained a group of friends at a party at their Ellport, home on Tuesday afternoon.

The hours were passed in a pleasant manner. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Etta McMunn.

The guests of honor were the recipients of many lovely and useful gifts as remembrances of the happy occasion.

MAJORS FUNERAL

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—Last rites for Mrs. Flora Newton Majors, whose death occurred at her home in Park Gate on Sunday morning following a stroke, were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Park Gate Baptist church. The services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. F. R. Schillinger, and were largely attended by bereaved relatives and friends.

Music was contributed by Mrs. M. Householder, Mrs. J. Wright and Mrs. Walter LeHaven. Interment was made in the Slippery Rock cemetery.

HOSPITAL NOTES.

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—Discharged Wednesday: Mrs. Clarence Nell and daughter of Cochranton.

Admitted: Lawrence McNany, Jr., of Mounted Route No. 7.

Eighth Grade Takes Achievement Tests

Improvement Shown By Ellwood City Classes In Special Exams

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—The Metropolitan Achievement Tests have again been given to the pupils completing the eighth grade at the end of the present time. This is the Eighth class to whom these tests have been given. There are nine parts to the test and no previous class has been entirely up to the standard score in more than four subjects. The present class is up to this score in all but two subjects. New high scores have been made in Reading, Arithmetic Fundamentals, Arithmetic Problems and English.

Individual high scores were:

Reading—Thomas Murphy, Harold Osborne.

Vocabulary—Catherine McCurdy, Rudolph Biordi, Samuel Rice, Clifton Jones.

Arithmetic Fundamentls — Kathleen McLaughlin.

Arithmetic Problems — Malcolm Wilson.

English—Shirley Wilson.

Literature—Shirley Wilson, Alleis Conner, Catherine McCurdy.

History—Malcolm Wilson.

Georgraphy—Alleis Conner, Billy Knauff.

Spelling—Betty Sokloski.

Total Score—Malcolm Wilson.

Mrs. Brenemen Is Charming Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—Mrs. John Brenemen was a charming hostess to the members of the J. E. B. club Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock dessert-bridge event. Mrs. Walter Close was a special guest.

Bridge was enjoyed during the afternoon. A short business meeting was also held at which plans were formulated for breakfasts and picnics during the summer.

Westminster Guild Has Joint Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—Miss Mary Bell, Miss Ruth Burke, Miss Doris Clarke and Miss Mary Ellen Forbush were special guests when members of the Westminster Guild of the Knox Presbyterian church entertained members of the Westminster Guild of the North Sewickley church at the former church on Tuesday evening.

A devotional period was led by Mrs. Carl Mathews and Miss Geraldine Swick.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to a 'monkey mix-up" party which proved to be most enjoyable. At an appropriate hour the group were seated at a beautifully appointed table featuring black and white appointments. The host society served elaborate refreshments.

On Thursday evening, June 5, the Knox Guild will hold their next regular meeting.

Mrs. Alice James Pleasing Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—Mrs. Alice James proved to be a charming hostess on Wednesday afternoon when she opened her home at Knox to members of the Women's Missionary society of the Knox Presbyterian church.

Spanish Speaking America was the topic for discussion and it was presented in an interesting manner by Mrs. Ernest Peffer as leader. Papers on the subject were contributed by Mrs. Robert Bell, Mrs. Clifford Rice and Mrs. C. W. Yahn.

During the business meeting plans were made to hold a joint meeting with the North Sewickley society on Wednesday, June 17, at the home of Mrs. Charles Hauserman of Frisco. Mrs. George W. Supplee of Zelienople, a missionary on furlough will be the guest speaker during the afternoon session.

Rev. and Mrs. J. A. King and daughter Ruth, left early this week by motor for California. They plan to be gone for several weeks.

Roosevelt Endorses V. F. W. Buddy Poppy

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Commander-in-Chief,
Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States,
Washington, D.C.

My dear Commander:

Every orphan deserves a chance for happiness equal to that enjoyed by the average American child. This opportunity is given the orphans of veterans by the V. F. W. National Home at Eaton Rapids, Michigan, maintained by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

Proceeds from the annual sale of Buddy Poppies make possible the maintenance of this orphanage. Buddy Poppies also offer a source of employment and relief for needy and disabled veterans in their home communities. For these two very real reasons, we all should wear Buddy Poppies on Memorial Day.

Very sincerely yours,

Franklin D. Roosevelt

New Castle Teams Are Challenged By Ellwood Leaders

Franklin Township Firemen Want To Meet A. S. T. Plate And Sixth Ward Teams

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—Franklin Township Firemen's baseball team, formerly the Pastime A. C. went into the lead of the Ellwood City Twilight League last week when they defeated the Polish Eagles. The local firemen are playing independent ball on Saturday's and Sunday and would like to challenge the A. S. T. Plate team and the Sixth Ward Firemen of New Castle for games. Arrangements can be made by calling George Thornhill, Ellwood City 1121-J.

Lutherans Win Softball Game

ELLWOD CITY, May .21.—The Lutherans softball team of the local Church League took a convincing 11-0 victory over the Park Gate Baptists last evening on the Wiley Hill field. Fleischer was the winning pitcher. The Ellwood team wielded a mean bludgeon and showed some classy fielding to gain their rout of the Park Gate team.

Tonight they will battle the Park Gate Independents at the latter's field. The players are to meet at the Trinity church 6 o'clock from where transportation will be provided.

Mrs. Fred Smith W. M. S. Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—Mrs. Fred Smith proved to be a charming hostess on Wednesday when she opened her home on the Ellwood-Beaver Falls road to members of the Women's Missionary society of the Providence Baptist church of North Sewickley who assembled for the regular May meeting.

There were fourteen members and two guests, Mrs. Jacob Smith and Mrs. Howard Syphrit in attendance.

Following the business and devotional periods plans were made for next meeting which will be held on Thursday, June 11, at the home of Mrs. G. N. Hazen of Celia.

Special Meeting Of Fire Department

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—A special meeting will be held tonight at 7 o'clock by the Franklin township volunteer fire department in the Frisco armory. Plans will be discussed and furthered for the firemen's jubilee to be held on Memorial Day. Many features are being arranged.

Word has been received from the factory that the new pumper truck will arrive on the 25th of this month.

Troop F. Ready For Summer Camp

Inspection Of Troop By Regimental Instructor Shows Men Fully Prepared

NEED FUNDS FOR CAMP EQUIPMENT

Troop F., 103 rd Cavalry, P.N.G., has reached a high stage of efficiency and should make an enviable record while at camp next month, Capt. George F. Mitchell stated today.

Capt. William T. Fletcher, instructor of the upstate troops, was here Sunday and conducted an inspection of the troop during their drill period. A tactical drill problem was worked out, with part of the troop mounted and part dismounted. Capt. Fletcher was pleased with the manner in which the problem was handled and complimented Corporal Harvey C. Black in particular for his iniative.

Afterwards, a critique was held, and the errors observed were pointed out by Capt. Fletcher. A quiz of the non-coms was also conducted which showed they had an excellent knowledge of military affairs.

The troop will drill again on Sunday and preparation for the departure for camp on June 19 will be impressed upon the men. They will also practice polo Saturday for the match at West Middlesex in the near future.

Plans have been completed for the entertainment to be staged at the armory on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week, which has been arranged for the purpose of raising funds to purchase camp equipment.

STABS HYPNOTIST AT PERFORMANCE WHILE IN TRANCE

(International News Service)

BUDAPEST—A hypnotist giving a demonstration at Izsak, Hungary, was stabbed by a man he had "put to sleep."

In the course of his performance, the hypnotist appealed to the audience for a volunteer. A young farmer, Karoly Szani, accepted the invitation and was soon in a trance.

"Here is a knife. Take it!" commanded the hypnotist. "Stand up, here comes one of your enemies! You hate him because he has stolen your sweetheart." The farmer responded perfectly to the order of the hypnotist.

"Look out—your foe is going to attack you!" shouted the hypnotist.

The farmer sprang—at the hypnotist!

The audience, in two minds as to whether it was part of the show, hestitated before going to his help.

At that moment the knife struck the hypnotist close to his heart. The hypnotist is now in hospital in an extremely grave condition. The farmer's trance was so deep that the local doctor had great difficulty in arousing him.

Child Welfare Work Launched In Rural Areas

Nation And State Co-operate Under New Federal Social Security Act

HARRISBURG, Pa.—Pennsylvania and Washington have become partners to extend new social security benefits to children in the State's predominantly rural areas and to those in areas of special need.

Under provisions of the Federal Social Security Act, which became operative May 1, Federal funds have become available to Pennsylvania to establish, extend and strengthen services for the protection and care of the homeless, dependent and neglected children and children apt to become delinquent.

It is proposed to extend Pennsylvania's program of assistance which has been approved by the United States Children's Bureau, Washington, into every county in the State if the new aid is requested.

Four additional members have been added to the staff of the Department of Welfare to administer the provisions of the Social Security Act as it pertains to child welfare.

The departmental organization has been completed and within a short time officials and private citizens will be consulted with a view toward establishing child welfare services to be financed principally from Federal funds.

MYSTERY MAN OF SANCTIONS HAS ODD NAME

(International News Service)

GENEVA—The League of Nations secretariat has just solved a mystery after months of head-scratching.

Ever since sanctions were first applied to Italy, notes from the various states members of the league have been coming to Geneva with details of the application of various measures.

All have been clear except those from the Netherlands government. These have been signed by an official of the Dutch foreign ministry but nobody could decipher the name. The notes from the Netherlands government were then circulated with the name of the sender given as "illegible".

The unknown man became the "mystery man of sanctions". As such he has achieved certain distinction.

A formal inquiry has now revealed the name of Mr. Snouck Hurgronje.

TUSKEGEE PLANS SCHOOL FOR CHEFS

(International News Service)

TUSKEGEE—In answer to a plea from leading hotel men over the nation, Tuskegee Institute will add another course to its curriculum in June, President F. D. Patterson announced.

The school plans the installation of a chef's school for young negro men and women, thought to be the first school of its kind in the country. The full course will extend over a four-year period. However, because of the urgent need of good cooks and the desirability of offering to the men now working, opportunity for improvement, a shorter course also will be offered.

The courses are designed to cultivate appreciation, develop a mastery of principles, skill and technique, increase vision, and give a sense of responsibility.
